HOUSE GROUP ASKS DRIVE AGAINST REDS

Committee Seeks Contempt Charges and Action by Attorney General.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 22—The committee on un-American activities called upon the house today to vote contempt charges against two alleged Communist 'conspirators' and upon the attorney general to prosecute Communists who scoff at American laws.

Committee Chairman J. Parnell Thomas (R-NJ) asked for the contempt action against Eugene Dennis, Communist party secretary, and Leon Josephson of New York. He described Josephson as the "official procurer" of false American passports for Communist functionaries."

Dennis and Josephson both refused to testify to the committee and were held in contempt. Should the house back the committee, a contempt case can be laid before a grand jury. Conviction carries a maximum punishment of a year in jail plus a $1,000 fine. Thomas wants to increase the penalties.

Important to Reds

The chairman told the house that witnesses have described Josephson as "more important in the international setup of Communism" than Gerhart Eisler, the "commissar of Communism in the United States." Eisler already is under indictment for contempt of the committee.

"Where has the department of justice been for the past 12 years?" Thomas asked.

He said all three of the men he named have been "flagrantly serving as agents of a foreign government" and are leaders of a "conspiratorial organization which is bent upon destroying" the United States government.

Dennis, Josephson and Eisler, Thomas said, could have been convicted long ago under laws requiring registration of foreign agents and foreign organizations.

FBI Knows Position

He said FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover knows the Communist party is a "fifth column" loyal to Russia. He said the committee knows it and he "can't understand" why the attorney general doesn't know it.

"Why doesn't he prosecute the Communists just as he should any other violator?" the chairman inquired. "Why do they enjoy a special privilege * * * is the government of the United States to be cowed and insulted by this Communist conspiracy? * * *

"I call upon the attorney general for acion now."

LARUE PLANT TO BE REBUILT

Plans Under Way To Replace Hatchery Destroyed at Loss of $65,000.

Special to The Star

LARUE, April 22—Plans to rebuild the Ridgway Duck Hatchery, the main building of which was destroyed by fire at noon yesterday, were under way today, according to an announcement by Keith B. Ridgway, a partner in the firm along with his father, Dean C., and his brother Clair C.

The firm will be able to get into partial production in approximately four weeks, Keith said.

Latest estimates placed on the damage by the owners is approximately $65,000. Approximately 15,000 newly hatched turkeys were destroyed, along with 22 incubators filled with duck and turkey eggs.

The fire, of unknown origin, started about 12:15 p. m., only 10 minutes after employes had left the plant for lunch after making a check of the building. Two fire trucks from LaRue and one from Kenton and Richwood fought the flames for several hours and prevented it from spreading to the adjoining offices and another section of the plant across the street and the residence of Clair Ridgway nearby.

Gasoline Feeds Flames

The explosion of two gasoline tanks, one in a truck which was inside the building and another in an emergency electric plant nearby, threw burning gasoline over the main building and foiled all hope of saving it. The removal of a tank of fuel oil at the side of the building carrying oil for the office heating system, prevented the flames from spreading farther. Workers carried out files containing plant records before the office section was damaged by water. An apartment over the office, used by Dean Ridgway, was damaged.

The damage, which was two-thirds covered by insurance, included 20 incubators of 16,000 egg capacity and two others of 32,000 capacity, in addition to a truck and the emergency electric plant used to keep the incubators at proper temperatures. All the incubators except three were filled with duck and turkey eggs. The nine incubators holding chicken eggs were in the building across the street and were undamaged.

Second Fire Since 1925

The fire was the second which the firm has experienced since starting business here in 1925. A fire in 1929 destroyed a plant near the river.

The hatchery which is one of the largest in Ohio and reported to be the largest devoted to ducks in the country, employs 12 workers including the office force and the three partners. It has a 416,000 egg capacity and annually produces about 800,000 ducks, 250,000 chicks and 200,000 turkeys. The fire occurred in the middle of the busy season. Customers are located in all states east of the Rockies and young fowls are often shipped as far as Mexico by air express. The firm also operates plants in Mt. Vernon and Belle Center.

The large number of eggs used by the hatchery are secured by placing young fowls with farmers who raise and feed them and then sell back the eggs on a contract basis.

Keith Ridgway announced last night that all the turkey and duck eggs would be accepted at any time, but that they would be unable to handle the chicken eggs for the present.

Korean Talks Agreed Upon

May 20 Set for Russian, U. S. Conference on Establishing Independence.

By The Associated Press

MOSCOW, April 22—Russia—responding to a suggestion by the United States—proposed today that the joint Soviet-American commission empowered to start Korea on the road to independence meet in Seoul on May 20 to resume its work, interrupted by basic disagreements 11 months ago.

Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, replying to a letter from Secretary of State George C. Marshall on the Korean question, blamed American members of the commission for causing the breakdown last May in negotiations and suggested a three-point program for immediate action:

"1. The establishment of a provisional Korean democratic government on the basis of broad participation by Korean Democratic parties and social organizations, in order to expedite the political and economic amalgamation of Korea as a self-government state, independent of foreign interference, which fact would eliminate the division of the country into two zones."

Soviets North, U. S. South

Soviet troops now occupy the northern zone and American troops the southern zone.

(Failure to agree on what constituted "democratic" parties and organizations resulted in the breakdown of the commission last year.)

"2. The establishment of democratic bodies of power throughout Korea by free elections on

PHILADELPHIA TO GET G.O.P. CONVENTION

By The Associated Press

KANSAS CITY, April 22—The 1948 Republican nominating convention will be held the week of June 20 in Philadelphia, the city where the party nominated its first standard bearer in 1856.

Choice of Philadelphia as host to its fifth G.O.P. convention came late yesterday as the Republican national committee overwhelmingly disregarded the recommendation of its site sub-committee which had given the nod to Chicago.

The committee's action met with the general approval of party leaders here for the two-day meeting to pick a conventon city and discuss finances for 1948.

Herbert Brownell of New York, former national chairman, described Philadelphia as a "very popular choice." Brownell, who carried the proxy of J. Russell Sprague, the Thomas Dewey movement spearhead at a similar meeting four years ago, declined to speculate about the effect of the convention city choice on Governor Dewey's chances for the 1948 nomination.

Rep. Clarence J. Brown of Ohio, chairman of the party's executive committee, also said he saw no political signifance in the choice. Brown, who had voted for Chicago, said Philadelphia's guaran-

Snyder Scores Tax Cut Bill

Time Is Not Ripe, Secretary Tells Senate Hearing Committee.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 22—Secretary of the Treasury Snyder urged the senate today to kill the bill—passed overwhelmingly by the house—to cut income taxes from 30 per cent at the bottom to 10.5 per cent at the top.

Snyder renewed the Truman administration's opposition to any tax cut for at least another 14 months, but suggested that congress with help from the treasury, "review the whole tax system in anticipation of later tax reductions."

Declaring that a general cut now is "neither necessary nor appropriate," the first witness before the senate finance committee hearing on the house-passed bill marshalled these arguments:

1. Employment is high, national income is at a record peacetime level, and "under these favorable economic conditions present taxes do not impose an excessive hardship on the American people."

2. "Inflationary pressures have still not subsided...so long as inflationary pressures exist, there is good economic reason for maintaining high taxes."

3. The current budgetary situation calls for the maintenance of existing taxes. He said there is not clear evidence that expenditures in the next fiscal year can be reduced below the President's budget figures of $37,500,000,000.

4. It would be "sound financial policy" to achieve as large a budget surplus as possible and apply it against the $258,000,000,000 public debt.

5. By concentrating a large reduction in the individual income tax alone, later well-balanced tax revision would be made more difficult "and perhaps impossible."

6. The house bill, he contended, is inequitable, and would complicate the individual income tax.

Snyder's stand against the bill was no surprise, since he had taken the same position when it was before the house committee.

SENATE VOTES ON GREEK AID PLAN TODAY

$400,000,000 Near East Assistance Program Seems Certain To Pass.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 22—With a rare certainty of approval, the senate votes at 4 p. m. today on President Truman's plan to give Greece and Turkey $400,000,000 in financial and military aid to keep them from collapsing into the arms of Communism.

The new venture in foreign policy approached its first congressional showdown amid indications that it would receive far less emphatic backing than the last major decision in that field—the senate's 89 to 2 ratification of the United Nations charter on July 28, 1945.

A score, more or less, of dissenters apparently stood ready to cast their votes against the first segment of the developing program of aiding "free peoples." They have predicted variously that it will (a) bring eventual war with Russia, (b), bankrupt the American economy and (c) destroy the United Nations.

Lined Up To Pass

Nearly three times that number of senators have lined up to pass the bill and send it to the house. Favorable action there also seems assured later. This would put into almost immediate effect, through a proposed $100,000,000 RFC advance, a program of Secretary of State Marshall called "indispensable" in a message from Moscow yesterday to Chairman Vandenberg R-Mich), of the senate foreign relations committee.

But despite Marshall's endorsement, some supporters of the legislation such as Senator Taft (R-Ohio), made it clear they are acting reluctantly.

Many agreed it may be necessary for Uncle Sam to plant his foot firmly in Europe's strategic back door, lest it be slammed shut by the Communists.

Few Have Enthusiasm

But few had any enthusiasm for the affair.

Even Vandenberg, chief sponsor of the bill, called the eventual outcome of the whole venture a "guess."

The question before the senate as it met at 11 a. m., was an amendment by Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo), the bill's No. 1 opponent, to cut Turkey out of the financial-military aid program. In his pocket, Johnson also had an amendment to strike out the military features, limiting assistance to relief aid only.

NEW FIRE BREAKS OUT AT TEXAS CITY

By The Associated Press

TEXAS CITY, Tex., April 22—The warehouse of the Texas City Terminal Railway Co., stored with ammonium nitrate, burst into flames today seven days after the disastrous explosions, caused by the same chemical, killed an estimated 575 persons.

Deputy Mayor John Hill said "an explosion could occur at any time."

The cause of the fire was not determined, but a Houston Chronicle staffer at the scene said it broke out shortly after 9:10 a. m., almost the same minute the Wednesday first blast occurred aboard the French ship Grandcamp.

Huge clouds of smoke again obscured tragedy-torn Texas City.

Survivors of the French freighter Grandcamp were expected to testify before a Coast Guard investigating board today on the blast which led to the death of hundreds and destruction of most of this little gulf port.

Recovery of five more bodies from the rubble of the explosion-torn industrial area yesterday brought the toll of known dead to 426 and Roy Wade, department of public safety official, said the final figure could not be less than 575.

SLUGGED WATCHMAN'S CONDITION IMPROVING

Hospital Issues Favorable Report On Blankenship.

The condition of Allen Blankenship, 68-year old Marion Power Shovel Co. watchman slugged over the head by an unknown assailant early Sunday morning, is "fair" and improving, attendants at White Cross hospital in Columbus said today.

They said Mr. Blankenship underwent an emergency skull operation when he was brought into the hospital Sunday about 3 a. m. He is conscious.

Blankenship was struck on the head several times with a heavy iron bolt in the watchman's shed on the company grounds on West Center street. He has not been able to identify his assailant. There were no witnesses to the actual assault, although Charles Murton, an employe of the company said he saw Blankenship fall and a man run away.

Chief of Police William E. Marks said today there were no new developments in the case.

9 Believed Killed In Georgia Plane Crash

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, Ga., April 22—A Delta airlines plane collided with a reconverted army basic trainer in landing here today and at least nine persons were believed dead in the crash.

Attaches at Muscogee airport said no bodies had been recovered from either plane, both of which were burning at 11:15 a. m. (eastern standard time).

Delta air lines said its plane was a special flight carrying eight executives of the company on a survey flight. It listed the eight as "apparently" dead. One man was reported in the other plane.

Delta said the men aboard its plane were:

George R. Cushing, of Philadelphia, vice president of operations and a veteran pilot who was flying the ship.

Lindley W. Camp, Atlanta, solicitor of the Fulton municipal court and attorney for Delta.

H. R. Bolander, San Francisco and Memphis, director of properties.

J. V. Little, Cartersville, Ga., district traffic manager.

L. T. Campbell, Hapeville, Ga., superintendent of communications.

E. A. Rainouard, New York, chief flight superintendent.

John L. Schneider, Natchez, Miss., superintendent of stations.

Clayton Berry, Atlanta, superintendent of airport construction.

"Apparently no one escaped," Delta's headquarters in Atlanta reported, explaining that the burning ship made it impossible to rescue those aboard.

The Delta plane was a twin-engined DC-type. It was obtained from the army and had been converted for pilot training and survey flights.

T. J. Peddy, manager of Eastern Air Lines here, said he was informed the training plane crashed into the tail of the Delta plane as the latter approached the end of the landing strip.

The training plane, a reconverted BT-13 fell underneath the tail of the Delta plane. Both caught fire.

The Delta plane was en route here from Macon where the Delta officials made a survey yesterday of airport facilities for a new alternate route between Atlanta and Savannah.

TO SIGN STEEL PACT TODAY

Murray Says Agreement Assures Labor Peace for Two Years.

By The Associated Press

PITTSBURGH, April 22 — Top officials of the CIO-United Steel Workers and the U. S. Steel Corp. today will put their signatures to a new pact which union President Philip Murray declared "assured peace in the industry for two years."

The signing will climax more than three months of negotiations and will make official the agreement providing a $1-per-day increase for 140,000 employes of five U. S. Steel subsidiaries.

The Steel Workers' executive board approved the agreement Sunday and the union's 175-man wage policy committee added its unanimous endorsement yesterday.

"Answer To Labor Baiters"

Murray termed the wage pact "an answer to all congressional labor baiters hell-bent on destruction of labor unions in America."

"It removes certain elements of doubt concerning the things that labor and industry can do. Independent of government intervention, to preserve decent, peaceful and honorable relations," the white-haired leader told a press conference following the policy committee meeting.

With its major task of signing "Big Steel" completed, the CIO's biggest union turned to the job of winning similar wage contracts for the remainder of the basic and fabricating steel industry which employes the bulk of its 853,000 members.

No Trouble Anticipated

Murray said yesterday that he anticipated no troubles in negotiations with the remaining 80 basic firms with which the union holds contracts.

As for the steel fabricating firms, he declared no "exact formula" had been worked out but he expected the U. S. Steel contract to "become the basis for our national wage makeup."

Quiz Kid Mentor Shoots Prowler

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, April 22 — Joe Kelly, quizzer of the famed radio Quiz Kids shot at two prowlers in the kitchen of his apartment last night, killing one.

Andrew Aitken, deputy chief of detectives, said the dead man was identified from fingerprints as Harold C. Fransen, 25, an ex-convict who had been paroled to the Army, saw service as a paratrooper overseas, and was released as a psychoneurotic in 1945.

He died in a back yard adjoining that of Kelly's apartment building after leaping a four-foot fence with .38 caliber bullet wounds in his back and neck.

BRITISH TROOP TRAIN FIRED ON

Palestine Terrorists Kill 8 In Attack Following Suicide of Condemned Men.

By The Associated Press

JERUSALEM, April 22—Terrorists blew up a British troop train southeast of Tel Aviv today, killing at least eight persons, and then machinegunned the wreckage. The attack was made two hours after two condemned Jews committed suicide with explosives just before they were to have mounted the gallows.

Army sources said they believed the "Egypt Express," bringing soldiers from that country, had been attacked by members of the Jewish underground group, Irgun Zvai Leumi. Four coaches were demolished, apparently by electrically detonated mines under the rails.

Troops and guards were reported to have exchanged fire with the attackers, but no one was captured. One of the dead was a child, two civilians and five were soldiers. Those at the scene reported seeing arms, legs and other parts of mutilated bodies in the wreckage.

Probably two dozen other persons were trapped in the debris. First accounts said two soldiers and seven civilians were injured seriously and 21 others less seriously.

The doomed Jews, Meyer Feinstein and Moshe Barazani clasped explosives secreted in hollowed oranges to their breasts and died in mangled contortion in Jerusalem prison just before they were to have mounted the 13 steps leading to the hangman's noose. Both were underground members and had been condemned for anti-British violence. Four other members of Irgun were hanged last week, and Irgun had issued threats of vengeance.

BACK-TO-WORK MOVE FOILED

Labor Chiefs End Brief Bid To Halt Walkout Now 75 Per Cent Effective.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 22—Officials of AFL truck drivers Local 413 quickly beat down a back-to-work movement which hit the Columbus bakery strike today, amid vehement approval of strikers gathered in union headquarters.

A ringleader of the movement, Robert Hyer, was named to a committee to meet with the Columbus mayor.

Truckers walked out 24 hours ago, imperiling 75 per cent of the city's bread supply as union bakers refused to cross picket lines.

Sixty AFL union truck drivers, employed at the city's four strike-bound bakeries, took possession of union headquarters, contending they wanted to return to work.

Hyer, spokeman for a group of Continental bakery drivers, said:

Newmarker said 131 drivers were affected by the strike and that about 175 union bakers would not cross picket lines.

"We want to go back to work. We are satisfied with the company's proposals. This is an authorized meeting. We are going to stay here until Newmarker (Leonard Newmarker, president of truck drivers local 413) shows up."

Wanted Strike Vote

The insurgent truck drivers declared they had tried unsuccessfully three times to get union officials to call a meeting to vote on a strike.

"If he (Newmarker) doesn't show up by 11:15 Tuesday morning," said Hyer, "we are going down to the mayor's office and tell our story."

Hyer spoke for 24 Continental drivers.

Walter Blackburn, head of General Baking Co. drivers attending the meeting, said about 30 of them did not know why they were at the meeting.

"We are satisfied at least until we find out what this meeting was called for," he asserted. "The strike vote stands—it was taken 30 days ago with two-thirds of the membership voting."

Newmarker later said he and five union officials were scheduled to meet today with Mayor James A. Rhodes. Representatives of the four struck bakeries have been invited, he said.

After the strike was called yesterday, housewives cleaned out the bread shelves at grocery stores.

121 Drivers Affected

Leonard Newmarker, president of the AFL truck drivers union, said 131 drivers were affected by the strike and that about 175 union bakers would not cross picket lines.

The drivers demanded a 10 per cent commission on all sales. The drivers now are paid an eight per cent commission.

A spokesmen for the companies—Continental Baking (Wonder Bread); General Baking Co. (Bond Bread); Taystee Bread Co., and Ward Baking Co.—declared:

"We feel that these men are not entitled to any monetary considerations at this time because they are now earning excellent salaries."

Company officials said the wage paid to drivers is $90 a week and that some drivers earn as much as $150 a week.

Marion Men's Quito Broadcast Is Heard Here; On Air Tonight

Several persons in Marion heard last night a radio broadcast from Quito, Ecuador, which brought here by shortwave greetings from Dr. C. E. Hershey and Rev. Marvin Lewis, who are on a missionary tour of Central and South American countries. The broadcast was over station HCJB, "Voice of the Andes," and was received at 9:30. According to one amateur radio operator here, John G. Hoffman of 630½ Darius street, the program was heard on 15.5 and 9.9 MC (megacycles), but 15.5 proved the better. Mr. Hoffman is a former navy radio operator, and now has his own amateur radio receiver set.

Mrs. Hershey heard the broadcast at the George Schwab home at 1200 East Church street, and commented today on the clearness of reception from HCJB. Mr. Schwab attempted to call through to Quito, then, she said, but was unable to reach the South American station.

Heard by Several

Among those hearing the program also were Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Brown of 286 Summit street. Mrs. Brown had heard the announcement from HCJB at 5 p. m. that Dr. Hershey and Rev. Lewis would be on the air at 9:30, together with the request to "anyone listening in Marion" to pass the word on to Mrs. Hershey.

It was announced that the program from HCJB will be on the air at 11 tonight. Robert Morrison of radio station WMRN stated today an attempt will be made to rebroadcast tonight's program direct from shortwave. Success of the effort will depend on atmospheric conditions, however, he pointed out.

On last night's program from Quito a special greeting was sent WMRN and the local station was requested to record tonight's program to be played at the Marion Youth for Christ meeting Saturday night. Dr. Hershey, director of Marion Youth for Christ, and Rev. Lewis, until recently co-director, are making their tour of the Latin American countries in the interest of Youth for Christ International.

Todays Broadcasts

The schedule of broadcasts by the two announced for today included programs at 7:45 a. m., 5:45 p. m. and 11. Mrs. Hershey said today an attempt will be made here to record tonight's broadcast on Dr Hershey's own recording equipment, providing the program comes in clearly enough. A mechanical difficulty with the equipment made it impossible to record last night's broadcast, she stated.

The program last night included numbers on the accordion by Dr. Hershey, and an accordion, trumpet and musical saw trio with Rev. Lewis playing the last named instrument. Rev. Lewis spoke during the first 15-minute period on "The Love of God," and Dr. Hershey's message during the last quarter hour was on "Life," for which he used John 3:16 as his text. He sang his own composition, "I'm in Love With Jesus," and it was stated that copies of the song would be sent to those writing to the Quito radio station that they had heard the broadcast.

Price Cut Tossed Out Window, Says Taft of Pay Hike

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 22—Senator Taft (R-Ohio), said today big steel's agreement with the CIO for $1 a day wage boost probably has "tossed out the window" any real chance to bring prices down.

Taft called the senate-house committee on the economic report together today to issue a brief statement on its study of prices.

But the committee chairman told a reporter in advance of the meeting that he believes the U. S. Steel-CIO agreement is likely to set a pattern for similar wage increases that will prevent any substantial reduction in the prices of manufactured products.

"It looks like price cutting has been tossed out of the window," Taft said. "We now see pretty clearly that corporations are go-

STEEL UNION SUED FOR BACK OVERTIME

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, April 22 — The CIO United Steel Workers of America was a defendant today in a suit for alleged unpaid overtime filed by a former union official.

Finas Reynolds of Canton a former international union field representative was cited the suit asked $21,340.36 and a like amount in liquidating damages from the union and its officials for alleged unpaid overtime from June, 1941, to July, 1946. Reynolds stated in the petition the amount sought represents time and a half for overtime spent in his services for the union.

Reynolds asserted he was employed as a field representative during the period named and that he was denied compensation at time and a half for periods when his work exceeded 40 hours a week.

Court attaches said they had filed hundreds of suits of workers against employers for portal-to-portal and unpaid overtime compensation but that this was the first in which an international union had been charged with violation of the fair labor standards act.

Named as defendants are United Steel Workers of America, Philip Murray as an individual and as union president, David J. McDonald as an individual and as secretary-treasurer of the union, and I. W. Abel, as an individual and as director of the union's District 27 in Canton.

Reynolds formerly was president of the steel union local at the Canton plants of the Timken Roller Bearing Co.

INJUNCTION ASKED IN HIGHWAY STRIKE

By The Associated Press

JACKSON, O., April 22—The state drew up for examination in common pleas court today a petition for an injunction to keep striking highway department workers from stopping traffic at the state garage in Jackson or interfering with work on state roads.

Assistant Attorney General F. L. Orum prepared the application for presentation to Judge Fred W. Everett Jr. after highway officials here reported that 25 pickets blocked two trucks from passing through their lines yesterday.

Elmer Barnett, engineer for Chillicothe district No. 9, declared, "We are servants of the people and it is important that we get this situation cleared up with the men in order to continue work on roads in this section."

The walk-out of highway workers in the Chillicothe division this year followed the dismissal of nine unidentified employes.

John L. Claar, chief steward of Local 1084, Ohio Council of Highway Employes, who was among the dismissed employes, reported he was turned yesterday by Barnett and Carl Grimith, highway department personnel supervisor, to confer with them at the state garage here.

"I'm 57 years old and have never crossed a picket line," Claar said. "I'm too old to start it now." He added that he told the highway officials, "I'll discuss the situation with the men anywhere in Jackson county but the garage."

Claar reported that highway department workers would meet at Piketon, O., next Sunday to decide whether to call a strike in the entire Chillicothe division.

to basis of general and equal suffrage.

"2. Aid to the Korean nation in restoring Korea as an independent democratic state and in developing the national economy and national culture."

This apparently was a proposal for joining Russian-American dispersal and in Korea.

Calls On Russia

Marshall, in a letter to Molotov dated April 8, called on Russia to cooperate with the United States in restoring Korean independence as soon as possible. He urged that the joint commission be reconvened "on the basis of respect for the democratic right of freedom of opinion" and suggested that a date be fixed in the summer of 1947 for the Washington and Moscow governments to review the commission's work.

Molotov, in his reply, said the Soviet government believed in December, 1945, when the Moscow agreement establishing the commission was evolved, and still believes "that the amalgamation of Korea under the leadership of a national Korean government was the most important premise of restoring Korea as an independent state and providing the conditions for that country's development on democratic principles."

Miami Adding Six New Man-Made Islands

By TELEX HYNDS
Associated Press Writer

MIAMI, Fla. — The Florida peninsula has growing pains.

Where only a few months ago sailboats cut pretty pictures, racecourses swam and fished, Miamians today are preparing to build homes.

The Miami area's man-made colony of 25 islands, 19 of them uninhabited, is being enlarged with six new ones being brought up from the depths of Biscayne bay.

Big spectacular dredges suck the bay's bottom upwards through 36-inch pipes working 24 hours a day seven days a week.

$1 Worth $2,500 an Acre

The cost of the land presently averages about $2,500 an acre except where the bottom is rock and the multi-hundred millions encircling mainland. Fortunately, in the Miami area, the rock is about 15 feet below the surface of the bay bottom.

This land, unused, was purchased at approximately $1,000 an acre from the State of Florida and then permission had to be obtained from the war department for the dredging. The permit, however, is readily forthcoming now of the same sizes it refuses is wide and deeper channels.

The mammoth dredges push the combination of water and silica through pipes—sometimes a mile in length—at the rate of 24 cubic feet a second until the filled land rises nine feet above sea level, the requisite height for a man-made island.

Where the islands are of pumped-up rock, building begins immediately. Sand, however, must be allowed to settle. Some of the original Miami sand islands stood for 15 years before building was permitted on them.

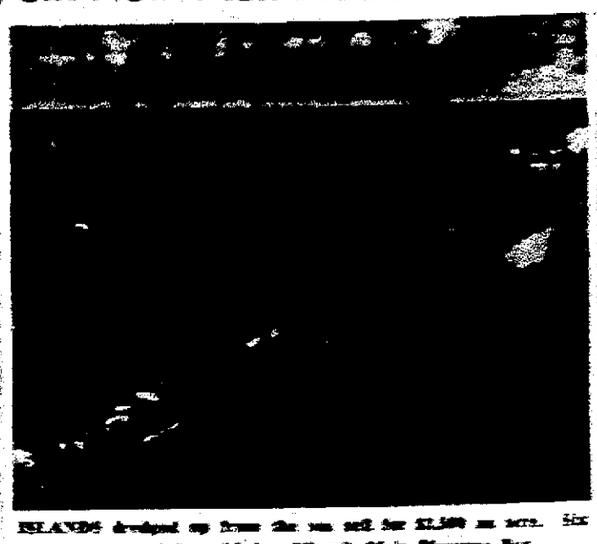
Miami Beach proper is the largest island in the area, 80 per cent of it having been filled in from 1913 to 1916.

But corresponding Miami Beach, the richest of the other islands is exclusive La Gorce. Even though only about half of it is built up at present, its 1946 real estate evaluation is set at $1,500,000. The highest assessed is Di Lido, $2,117,800, which is more highly developed.

The assessed valuation of property on 22 of the islands totals $11,218,470 for 1946 — a figure which makes it easy to see why the waterfront area came to be known as the "gold coast."

Many of the island mansions with luxurious yachts anchored at their front doors were built in the lush 1920's and since have changed hands, but to ogle-eyed tourists the sightseeing guide points out the home of famous names along "millionaires' row" of such persons as Harvey S. Firestone, Major Albert Warner, Miss L. Annenberg, John Jacob Astor III, Warren G. Wright, Gen. Wood, Fred Sutte Jr., R. J. Reynolds Jr., Harry Richman, Dianne Dumont, Ambassador William D. Pawley, Max Fleischer, and others.

The tourists, however, get a bigger kick in gazing on the home of Al Capone, who now lives at his Palm Island residence the year 'round.



ISLANDS dredged up from the sea sell for $2,500 an acre. Six more are being added to Miami's 25 in Biscayne Bay.

REAL ESTATE is pumped up at 24 cubic feet per second by these big dredges at Miami. In a few years—maximus.

Newark City Workers Voted Increase in Pay

By The Associated Press

NEWARK, O., April 22—The city council last night voted pay increases for the police department, fire department and city laborers, effective in approximately 30 days.

Firemen and policemen were granted increases of $20 a month and other laborers will get an additional 10 cents an hour.

The base salary of policemen is now $190 a month; that of the firemen is $185 a month, and the laborers get from 81 to 82 cents an hour.

The increase will enable a city truck driver to earn $204 a month, $25 more than the salary of the superintendents of streets.

The chiefs of the police and fire departments, now paid $250 a month, also will receive the $20 a month increases.

RAN OUT OF BULLETS. Shaking his finger, Gerald Wilson, 13, confessed slayer of his sweetheart, Dolores Fraties, explains to Pasadena, Cal., police how the couple's suicide pact failed when he ran out of bullets. After shooting and bludgeoning the 13-year-old girl, Wilson brought her body to a Pasadena police station and gave himself up.

County F.F.A. Officers Discuss Fair Plans

Officers of the Marion County Future Farmers of America held a meeting Saturday night in the office of Arthur H. Smith, county agent, here. Jack Dean, president, presided and discussion centered around improvements of the Marion county fair. It was decided to make a request for some new facilities, either bleachers or a new cattle building.

May 5 was set for the county judging contest at Prospect beginning at 9:30 o'clock in the morning. Teams will participate with ten members making up a team. Plans were also discussed for awarding a trophy to the winning team. On May 10, a poultry and egg judging contest will be held at New Washington. At the next meeting, May 2, the members will organize a constitution and a program of work.

UPPER SANDUSKY — Ralph Kramer of Upper Sandusky submitted to major surgery at Memorial hospital, Sandusky, Friday morning.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN BUNDESEN, M.D.

"Wrong Way" Swallow

There are few things which put us into a greater panic than swallowing something "the wrong way." To get anything lodged in the food passages or air passages creates a frightening sensation and we want to do something about it in a hurry.

Thus, if the object is in the air passages, the patient may be pounded on the back. In such an emergency a child is often held upside down by his heels. For similar stopping of the food passage, such first-aid measures as eating bread crusts or drinking water are likely to be tried.

According to Dr. Porter P. Vinson of Richmond, Va., these procedures are not only useless but may endager the patient's life. They frequently increase the difficulty of removing the object. He says that it is only in rare cases that emergency treatment is required.

Now and then some substance may be caught between the vocal cords in the larynx or voice box and this may produce spasm resulting in suffocation. In these instances, however, the only treatment that is of any avail is an operation known as tracheotomy in which the windpipe is cut open so that the patient can get air into the lungs.

Various types of objects that become lodged in the esophagus which is the tube leading from the throat to the stomach, require different methods for removal. In some cases attempts to push an object into the stomach, using a stomach tube, are dangerous and unwise.

The first thing that should be done in all cases is to determine what type of object is present and where it is located. X-ray examination is helpful in detecting metal objects, but such things as bones which have been swallowed are not easily seen in the X-ray film.

If there is any doubt about some object being present in the esophagus, an examination should be made with an instrument known as the esophagoscope which is made up of a tube with lights. This can be passed directly into the esophagus, thus enabling the physician to look directly into the esophagus, and so determine if any object is present, and just where it is located. The physician will not pass a stomach tube into the esophagus of any person who has difficulty in swallowing or who is thought to have swallowed some object which is caught in the esophagus.

If an object has been breathed into the lungs or air passages there may be some wheezing or noisy breathing. X-ray examination may help to show where the object is located. Examination with a bronchoscope which can be passed directly into the lung is also advisable. The object may also be removed through the bronchoscope.

WALDO CLUB MEETS

The Arts and Crafts club of Waldo held a potluck supper Wednesday night at the home of Mrs. R. E. Copeland on Franklin street in Marion. Mrs. Leo Groll, president, was in charge of the meeting. An antique display was featured and members gave the history of their antiques in response to roll call. A contribution of $3 was voted to the cancer fund. The next meeting will be in June.

Placing Penny In Fuse Socket Invites Trouble

This is one of a series of fire prevention reminders prepared for the benefit of readers of The Star by the fire prevention committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

"A penny placed behind a blown electric circuit fuse is a dangerous thing," Robert Scott, a member of the fire prevention committee of the Chamber of Commerce points out. A fuse is a "safety valve" placed in a circuit and to replace it with a penny is to invite damage to appliances or possibly fire through overloading the wiring, he said. Nothing heavier than a 15 ampere fuse is recommended for ordinary house circuits.

Mr. Scott also pointed to the importance of fire prevention to the United States by reporting that President Truman has called a conference in Washington, D. C., May 6 to discuss the subject. The President's action, he said, stems from the realization that fires are responsible for a great loss in the nation's natural resources each year.

Musical Revue Set As Cancer Drive Benefit

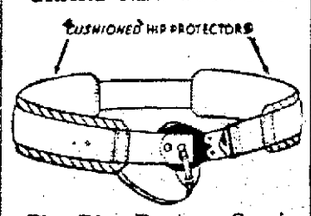
TRUSS EXPERTS COMING TO MARION

TO DEMONSTRATE GRAND NEW SUPPORT



The Rice Rupture Service Experts, personal representatives of William S. Rice, Inc., Adams, N. Y., wil be at the Marion Hotel, Marion, Ohio, on Wednesday, April 23. Every ruptured person should take advantage of this great opportunity.

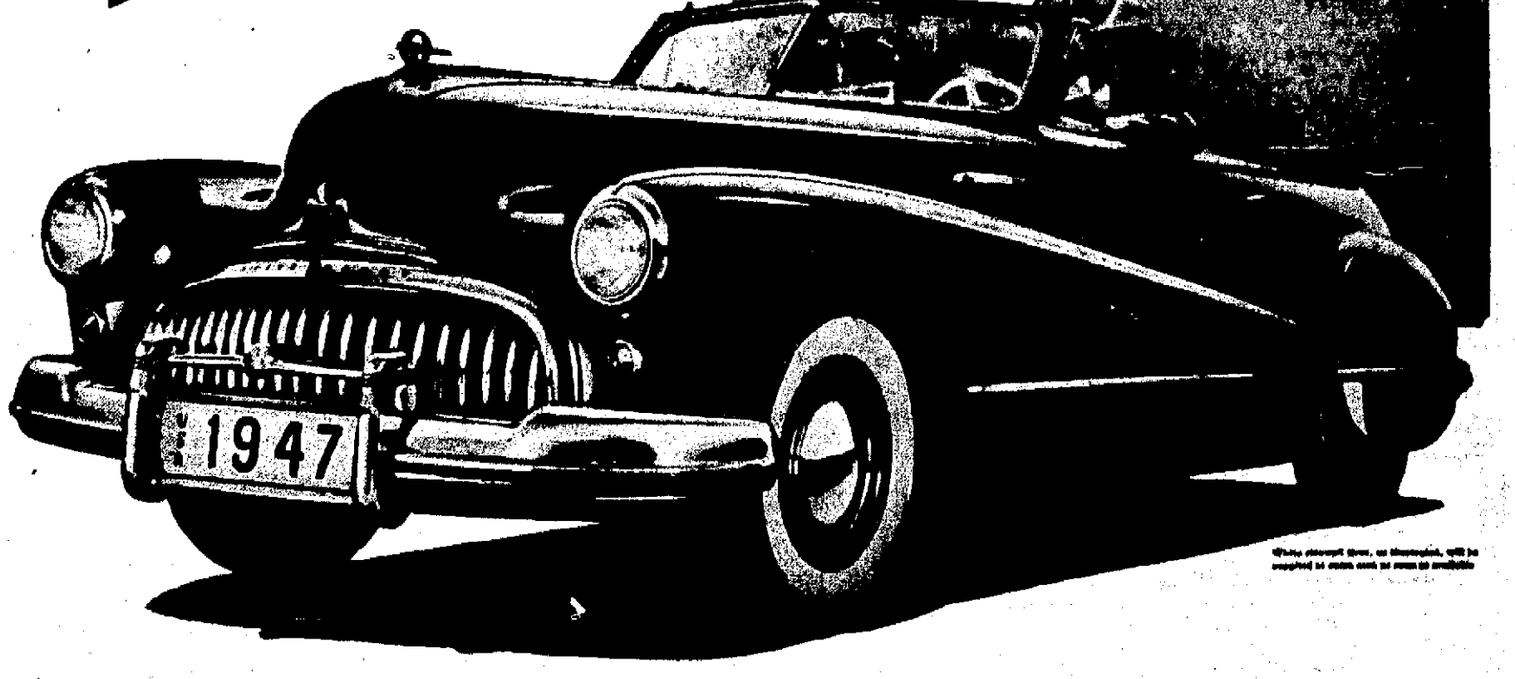
The Rice Method for Reducible Rupture Control is known the world over. You can now see this Method demonstrated and have a Rice Appliance fitted to you. Absolutely no charge unless you are satisfied to keep the Outfit after having the Appliance adjusted and you see how perfectly and comfortably it holds. No harsh, deep-pressing springs; nothing to gouge the flesh and make you sore.

Wear this Appliance for a full thirty day trial and if you are not perfectly satisfied at the end of that time, return it.

Thousands have reported entire satisfaction through using the Rice Appliance. Why suffer the burden of reducible rupture worry if there is a chance to be free from it? Anyway, it will cost you nothing to come in and learn all about the Rice Method and the wonderful opportunity for help it offers. Just ask at hotel desk for the Rice Representatives and they will do the rest. Hours are 10 to 12 a.m., 2 to 5 p.m. or 7 to 9 evenings.

Don't miss this great opportunity to see these Experts.

Beau Brummell of the Boulevards!



YOU'RE practically that, of course, the minute you take over any new 1947 Buick. Never before has any automobile so completely won the country by its beauty — so clearly defined the shape of cars to come.

But really to take the stage and hold it — to cut a dashing figure in the smartest of smart company —

It is without question the most wanted version of America's most wanted car.

It's wanted for the freedom that's yours when its handy control swings back the top — and the sky becomes your roof and the birds your travel mates.

It's wanted for the lift and surge of its satiny straight-eight Fireball power plant, master of every grade and hill, monarch of the farthest horizon.

It's wanted for bigness, and the deep comfort of low-set, cushiony seats — wanted for the floating ease of soft all-coil springing, and the sure-footed stride of a car that's big enough and brawny enough for its job.

It's wanted for styling that already has set the pattern for years to come — it's wanted for fun, for adventure, and for year-round, all-round full family use.

The demand for it? Great, of course. The supply? Mounting as fast as Buick's beaver-busy production staff can free up the supply of the fine materials that go into it.

So with patience, one can be yours. With patience, that is — and the foresight to get your order in now.

A HANDY TOUCH—and the door window runs up or down automatically. Other handy controls raise or lower the top and adjust the front seat.

In Memory Of
★Leonard Ruhl who passed away April 23, 1946.
This day brings back sad memories
Of our loved one gone to rest,
And those who think of him each day
Are the ones who love him best.
No one knows the silent heartaches,
Only those who lost can tell
Of the grief we bear in silence
For the one we loved so well.
Friends may think that we forget him
When they can see us smile,
But little do they know the sorrow
That is hid behind the smile.
Up above where angles dwelleth,
Where there is no night or pain,
We shall all be reunited,
Happiness shall reign again.
Not dead to us who loved him,
Not lost, but gone before,
He lives with us in memory,
And will forevermore.

Palace of Chance Lures Tired Oil Millionaires

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Writer

GALVESTON, Tex., April 22—Sam Maceo is an ex-barber with a frank and winning way—so winning that he now operates the plushiest gambling parlor in the kingdom of Texas.

Maceo, one of the best known night club entrepreneurs in America, is recognized also by the local population as a behind-the-scenes ruler of this resort city, where gambling is almost as wide open "in the season" as in Miami

Hal Boyle

Although the sources of his influence are cloaked behind a velvet curtain of polished gentility Maceo loves the spotlight as much as any of the high - priced bandlers and entertainers he imports from Manhattan

Few celebrities pass through this island city without receiving an invitation from the night club maestro's press agent to be a dinner guest at his glittering "Balinese room," a chromium saloon equal in elegance to the best along famous 52nd street in New York.

Holds Evening Court

There Maceo holds evening court with the regal geniality of an Oxford-educated Indian prince, surrounded by Sicilian relatives and well-mannered retainers so smoothly poured into their tailored tuxedoes their muscles hardly show.

Celebrities who wish after dinner to retire to a small adjoining room and try their luck at roulette or dice are free to do so Less noted figures go through a careful screening process before being allowed into this inner sanctum of chance

Maceo, a short, tanned, middle-aged man with curly hair, contributes freely to civic improvement projects and charities. He is currently helping sponsor a major entertainment for the relief of the Texas City disaster victims

"He would be hurt to be regarded as an ordinary gambler," said an acquaintance.

Just Business Man

He regards himself more as a business man interested in boosting Galveston. This self-appraisal is shared by a number of leading citizens. More than a dozen, including some ministers, once journeyed to Austin to plead with the state department of public safety to leave Maceo alone. The department's famed Texas Rangers had been axing the furniture in one of Maceo's establishments.

Sam was accused by the U. S. government in 1937 of acting as the brains of a $5,000,000 to $25,000,000 nation-wide conspiracy to violate the federal narcotic laws. A federal court jury acquitted him in 1942.

Maceo currently operates several nightclub-gambling houses—"A joint to fit every pocketbook," as one patron said The "Balinese Room" annex is for spenders in the tired oil millionaire class

It is constructed in a manner strategically pleasing to Maceo but annoying to his old tormentors, the Texas Rangers It is situated on a pier running several hundred feet out into the bay.

The nightclub and gambling room are enclosed in a windowless air-conditioned structure with no exits and only one entrance—at the head of the pier. There is a checking point here which enables guards to spot and identify potential raiders or highjackers

Must Sprint 165 Steps

To get from this first point of scrutiny to the nightclub door the Rangers must sprint 165 steps down the pier corridor. By then the management is ready.

"Welcome," a spokesman says Then he returns to the night club crowd and announces "Ladies and gellemen, we give you—the Texas Rangers."

The bandleader strikes up "The Eyes of Texas Are Upon You," the crowd stands up and the red-faced Rangers file angrily on through into the gambling room The chips, dice and roulette wheel have been whisked to a secret hideaway, and flustered patrons are clumsily pretending to play pool on the green-felt covered gaming tables.

"If I ever walked in there and saw a guy who really knew which one was the cue ball I think I'd faint," drawled one exasperated Ranger

But on one occasion the Rangers reversed the picture when one of their men in evening clothes got past the unsuspecting guards Walking up to a chip-piled table he tossed on it the emblem of his authority and said quietly

'Shoot the badge.'

No Half-Hearted Salvation

BERNARD M. BARUCH is one of the first to say in the United States what every honest observer is saying in England: That the waste of World War II cannot be offset by anything less than full production.

Mr. Baruch, whose age and prestige give him the right to say what he believes without fear of reprisals, recommends specifically that the United States adopt a 44-hour week, with no strikes or layoffs, until Jan. 1, 1949. "The results," he declares, "would be electrifying."

He denies that loans and grants are going to save anything. "One of the world's delusions," he asserts, "is that the world can be set right by borrowing money. It can get going only if men work. If we accept the challenge to preserve civilization, it means greater effort—greater even than that exerted during the war."

There is sound statistical evidence that Mr. Baruch is right when he proposes a longer work week to overcome a labor shortage. L. C. Walker points out in the current issue of American Affairs that the 40-hour week, vacation schedule, federal employment, G.I. education programs, social security, plus the increase in the population, necessitates a labor force of 69,000,000 in 1947 to produce a standard of living equal to that of 1929-30. This calculation does not consider the widespread inefficiency of the labor force, a factor which Mr. Walker believes more than offsets technological advances.

He suggests that the United States has a net shortage in its labor force of 10,000,000 persons, a figure which may be challenged but which represents the same problem tackled by Mr. Baruch when he proposes a national increase in the work week. To have strength the United States must have more production. To have more production it must have more work. There can be no half-hearted salvation.

"Le Grand Charlie"

CHARLES DE GAULLE, around whom French resistance rallied after the Petain capitulation, has come out of retirement to head a movement called "the rally of the French People."

He seeks to forge order out of chaos. Politically, France has been like a ship without a rudder since the war. All the weaknesses of coalition government are exemplified in France where a bitter struggle for control has been going on.

De Gaulle seeks a union of Popular Republicans, Socialists, Radicals and unaffiliated liberals whose aims are not greatly at variance and who might conceivably rally behind a strong leader. Such a unification would end the Communist threat in France, where the Reds number 1,000,000 party members but poll several times that many votes.

Despite enthusiastic acclaim wherever he speaks, "le grand Charlie" faces a formidable task. His plan has been received coolly by both Right and Left. Organizing a dominant political party among the individualistic French is more difficult than halting all motion in a can of night crawlers. But if France's makeshift coalition of Catholics, Socialists and Communists doesn't straighten up and fly right, De Gaulle will be the man to whom Frenchmen again turn.

Patriotism by Lottery

MOST selective service registration cards have been dropped in trash baskets or stored in bureau drawers as keepsakes. But military officials have not quit being concerned with the selective-service principle.

Secretary of War Patterson has declared that the United States made two great mistakes in World War II. It lacked unified command and a work-or-fight law. Apparently, the secretary failed to find merit in patriotism by lottery, which was the theory of selective service.

Yet the fact is that patriotism by lottery, while it worked extreme hardship on many of the men whose numbers were called, may have brought more essential jobs and qualified men together than could have been done by a work-or-fight law.

Mr. Patterson may be making the classic mistake of federal officials who become obsessed with the possibilities of regimentation. The officials forget that in the United States the alternative of regimentation must have had a great deal to do with the highest rate of wartime production attained by any nation.

IT WILL be interesting to observe how England's one-shilling increase in cigaret prices affects Britons' smoking habits. Heretofore cigarets were not cheap, being the equivalent of 48 cents a pack, but under the new schedule they will be 68 cents.

This latest result of Britain's austerity program is in line with its attempt to reduce use of scarce dollars for imports. Cigarets are not a necessity, but with clothes rationed, eggs available principally in powdered form, electricity limited, and oils and fats at a premium, tobacco helped quiet jumpy nerves.

In England, LSMFT takes on new meaning—Less Smoking—More for Treasury.

News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON

Mallon's Friend Right Again on Solution of Ills.

WASHINGTON, April 22—Last March 4, I had an interview with a former government official down in Miami, who said the trouble with the world was that local leadership was lacking, that no one in Washington would pay any attention to him, but he felt world thought had been moving in the wrong direction toward bigger and better mass planning, whereas the solution for our problems could really be found down amongst the people in each community. I always thought he was the smartest man I had ever met. Things he said proved to be true, and this time he seems to have been right again.

I have not seen any signs that Washington has paid any attention to him, but we took hold in our local community and some leadership has been established which has really made a different place out of it. The Citizens Association, for instance, started a spring clean-up campaign, and the people really got behind it. On these bright spring afternoons, on Sundays, or in the evenings, the residents run be see out tidying up their lawns and trimming their flowers. Not all people did this, but nearly everyone did, and the whole clean-up campaign took the course of a popular movement.

Extends to County

The community had run down during the war, when little help was available and improvements could not be made. Now new street signs have been bought and erected to replace the old ones. Our state senator got the county interested in fixing up our roads which had not been really repaired for some years. Up to now the county apparently thought it had done fairly well by filling the ruts and doing only the absolutely necessary work.

But now the county put in its clean-up squad and brushed up the gutters, cut down bushes and trees which were overgrowing the sides of some of the roads along property which was not occupied.

You can see everywhere in our community that the man I interviewed on the sands in Miami was right. He was right in another way, too. He had had some trouble with real estate people trying to muscle into our community and run it down with cheaper housing. They were trying even to rezone land adjoining our fine residential community for commercial purposes. The people themselves took hold of this. A lady came around to see me the other day with a petition filled with signatures against such a proposition. They are going before the zoning commission with their protest. As they have an obviously just cause, there will be no doubt about their winning. But you see it took leadership, local leadership, to get these things done. If there had been no petition and our residents had not been behind these people to go before the zoning board, the real estate clique with all their lawyers, might have gotten away with their scheme and run down the value of our homes.

Right Again

My friend in Miami was right in another way, too. Like all clubs, the one to which our local people generally belong had become run down. Things were so bad, the regime there could not even furnish its annual financial statement on time. But we decided to get an old president of the club back who had run it rather well, and he is doing a fine job. I saw two cash books out on the table the other day and asked one of the employes what it was being used for. He said that strict cash accounting was being done now.

So I wish to report that the assumption of local leadership in our community was just exactly what it needed. I used to just think my friend on the sands in Miami was the smartest man I had ever met. Now I know it.

Even Ma Perkins To Be Speechless?

Nearly 2,000 of the nation's leading radio writers have voted to strike next month.

Lets see Young Doctor Malone meet that emergency.

Yessir, this is the greatest crisis in radio since Dr IQ won an encyclopedia on Information Please.

For the first time, Portia really faces life.

One can only hope, if the writers' strike is to be a drawn-out affair, they will at least have the decency not to leave Stella Dallas with her sleeve caught in the wringer or the Young Widder Brown considering a proposal. Soap opera fans thrive on suspense. . . . But anything can be overdone.

Of cousre, in the field of comedy programs, the strike problem can be solved by using the same scripts over and over again. Indeed, some citizens will be surprised to learn that this has not been the practice all along.

Radio is one realm in which, when a stranger asks, "What's new?", the answer inevitably comes back "Nothing!"

What's more, you don't see the ghost of Joe Miller picketing for time and a half for overtime, although goodness knows he very well could, the hours he's putting in

U. S. Power in Middle East

By WALTER LIPPMANN

THE congress will vote for the Greek-Turkish bill because it cannot afford to reject it. If, after the British decision to retire from the front line in the Middle East, we refused to take over the positions they are vacating, the Soviet Union would be quite justified in concluding that there would be no serious objection to its expansion into the Mediterranean and the Middle East. The Kremlin could say that President Truman had put the issue to congress, and that after considerable debate congress had decided that it was not a vital interest of the United States to oppose Russian expansion in the Middle East.

Once the issue was put to vote, a refusal by congress to support the President would have been tantamount to giving the Soviets a green light, indeed the equivalent of a mandate, to become the heirs of the empire which the British are liquidating. Therefore congress has had no choice but to support this bill.

But there is no use pretending that congress is voting for a clear and considered policy. There are no doubt plans, more or less worked out, for spending the money which this bill authorizes congress to appropriate. But the policy itself, of which these plans are the instrument, has not been formulated.

Matter of Policy

With the big, hot generalities of the so-called Truman doctrine, any number of different policies could be developed. It is still possible to form a policy of definite, limited objectives, within our means, our military power, and our political competence. But it is equally possible, in the excited vagueness, to be rushed in where angels would fear to tread—into unlimited commitments, into a crusade which it is easier to begin than to finish, into a series of interventions and intrigues and entanglements including every country in Europe and Asia.

What is to come of it depends on whether Secretary Marshall can, when he returns, translate our inchoate opposition to Soviet expansion into a realizable plan of action. His ability to do that depends in considerable degree on whether serious and critical discussion can be resumed in this country, after it was interrupted and well-nigh throttled by the Wallace affair. For a serious discussion had begun, of which the Vandenberg amendments were the first fruits.

But now it is necessary to make clear to ourselves and to the world that the vote for this bill does not mean that the United States is committed to the things which Mr. Wallace has told the Europeans the bill means. For to the Soviets and their sympathizers he made it appear that the approval of this bill is the prelude to a declaration of war. This can only stiffen the resistance of the Soviets at every point, lest any concession by them be interpreted as appeasement of their irreconcilable enemies.

To the reactionaries his interpretation of American policy will be taken to mean that since Wallace has been beaten in congress, they can now count upon the unlimited support of the United States. This will provoke them to bolder and more provocative acts.

And to the great middle, moderate mass of frightened and hungry people who want personal freedom, a quiet peace and the necessities and decencies of life, his reckless dramatization of the issue will be taken to mean that they are caught between the devil and the deep blue sea.

Decision Made

As matter of fact, the vote for this bill can most accurately be interpreted as approval of the basic idea that the Middle East and the eastern Mediterranean is a region in which the United States is now a principal power with vital interests to protect. This is not a bill to establish democracy in Greece and Turkey. It is only incidentally a bill to bring relief to the victims of the war. It is a bill which establishes the United States as a power in the Middle East. Britain and Russia have been there for more than a century. Now we are there, too.

Where that will take us eventually, no man could now foresee. But it is urgent and essential that, having arrived in the Middle East, we make clear the immediate, definite, concrete objectives which we hope to achieve.

What then is the part we wish to play now in the Middle East? Our first objective, it seems to me, should be the conclusion of a treaty fixing definitely the boundaries of Greece, Turkey, and Iran, the regime of the Straits and the distribution of the oil concessions. Until such a treaty has been concluded—but only until then—the administration should treat the approval of the bill by congress as authorization of a special American military guaranty of the territorial integrity of Greece, Turkey, and also of Iran. It should tell the Soviet government that the special guaranty will stand until a treaty of settlement is negotiated. After that we shall consider the support of the treaty as one of our obligations under the United Nations Charter.

Such a specific policy, aimed at a treaty, will be far less provocative and far more effective than an undefined policy of resistance and hostility to the Soviet Union and to Communism in general. Nothing could be more dangerous and more unsatisfactory than to remain where we are now—having expressed a general attitude without defining our specific objectives.

GETTING "NO" WHERE

From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Thursday, April 22, 1937.

Premier Mussolini met Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg of Austria for a conference that political circles said would lead to a strong reaffirmation of Italian support of the independence of her northern neighbor.

Dennis Cook, 68, landscape gardener at the Marion cemetery for 15 years, died of a heart ailment in City hospital.

A 1 o'clock luncheon at Ringer's Inn closed the season for the Y. M. B. club and also celebrated the thirty-sixth anniversary of the organization of the club. Two charter members, Mrs Clara Morrison and Mrs. Barney Knofler, were present.

A cast of 115 presented a home talent show at the Central Junior High school. Sponsored by the county extension office, with Raymond L. Pifer, assistant county agent, in charge of arrangements, the opening night's performance drew an audience of approximately 700. The proceeds were to be used to further the rural youth recreation movement in the county.

Circle No 3 of the Ladies Aid society of the First Presbyterian church met for a potluck luncheon and program at the home of Mrs. James Walsh on Delaware avenue. The affair honored the new members, Miss Nell Loveland, Miss Emma Thompson, Miss Floretta Almendinger and Mrs A. F. Lantzer. Mrs. R. A. Garvin was a guest.

It was Friday, April 22, 1927.

Scores of lives were lost in the Mississippi river flood and refugees were threatened with famine and pestilence.

Marion county fruit growers were warned that a killing frost was likely following a drop in temperature to a freezing level.

Mrs. George Parish was elected president of Harmony circle, Paramount Council, Daughters of America.

H. G. Kenestrick, representative of Ohio State university who was here conferring with Smith Hughes instructors, said Marion county schools were leading the entire state in development of vocational agricultural activities.

Burley J. Beeman, 43, of West George street, dropped dead of a heart attack while at work at the Marion National Mills.

Kirkpatrick, Caledonia and Prospect schools divided honors in the finals of the Marion county declamatory contest at the Star auditorium.

Recovers Property Stolen by Nazis

By The Associated Press

WARSAW — Poland has recovered from Germany stolen properties valued at approximately $22,800,000 since the end of the war.

The newspaper Zycie Warszawy said that because of the nationalization of basic industries, most of the returned properties has fallen to the share of the state. They include:

An arms factory formerly situated at Radom; a gunpowder plant at Pionki; part of the metals plants at Skarzysko; 80 per cent of the chemical factory at Moscice; parts of rubber and cable and electric bulbs factories, and 49 carloads of textile machinery for the spinning mills in Lodz.

Additionally, hundreds of carloads of lathes and textiles, 1,500 thoroughbred horses and valuable library and museum collections have been returned.

Canada's Dollar Problem

By RAYMOND MOLEY

MONTREAL—Some visitors in Canada have a tendency to get confused over the present status of our dollar. An American who has had the foresight to buy Canadian dollars before leaving the United States finds that those Canadian dollars, purchased at around 92 cents, will buy just as much as his American dollars. But if he is a real U. S. importer and not just a casual shopper, he finds that he cannot use the Canadian dollars bought in New York. The quoted discount on the "unofficial" market is not available to foreign buyers of Canadian goods.

Canada, of course, is the only part of the British Commonwealth of Nations where the pound sterling does not rule, and under the Canadian economy many commodities have been cheaper than in the United States. For many years, the Canadian dollar stood at 90 cents in American money.

Exchange Rate Raised

But last summer, when President Truman and OPA leaders were predicting a 70-per cent rise in prices in 20 days if price controls were removed, Canada was alarmed. If felt that, despite its controls, it could not hold the line in face of inflation below the border. Therefore, in July the government of Canada raised its official rate of exchange, bringing the two currencies to parity.

But after the dire prediction of inflation did not materialize, the strength of our dollar asserted itself. Exports from Canada to the United States decreased because the importer had to pay more U. S. dollars for Canadian goods. Imports increased, because Canadian dollars bought more U. S. goods. This developed a danger that Canadian reserves of gold and foreign currency might decline seriously. That is what happened in Sweden when it attempted to raise the value of its money in U. S. terms. Canada has succeeded in preventing a serious drain on its reserves because it has firmly maintained its import and export controls. But the strain is considerable.

Denies Premium Collected

Last week the foreign exchange control board in Ottawa issued a 12-page brochure answering many questions about the exchange situation. It flatly denied that when the Canadian government sold gold abroad it converted the U. S. dollars received into Canadian dollars in the unofficial market. This denial was in answer to complaints from Canadian gold producers who feared that their government was getting a premium which was not passed along in higher prices.

The control board said, further, that the Canadian government could not eliminate the discount by buying Canadian dollars in the New York unofficial market, because that would put an intolerable strain on its reserves. The statement continued: "As the funds entering the market for Canadian dollars in U. S. consists entirely of liquidations of Canadian capital by non-residents, such a drain of U. S. dollars is regarded as an unnecessary one for Canada to undergo."

The control board did not initimate whether there were any plans to restore the old rate. Nevertheless, it is hard to see how that step can be indefinitely delayed.

Sea Mining

There is $93,000,000 worth of gold in every cubic mile of sea water but it costs $5,000 to extract $5 worth, according to "The Mysterious Sea," by Ferdinand C. Lane, which has just been published by Doubleday.

Many another bit of interesting bit of sealore is to be found in Mr. Lane's book. For instance, Mindanao Deep is deeper than Mt. Everett is high, and off Monterey, Calif., there is a submarine chasm deeper than the Grand Canyon.

How high do waves get? More than 100 feet, according to Mr. Lane, although he doubts they exceed 200 feet, as has been reported off Cape Horn. Anyway, there's a 40-ton wave-tossed boulder perched on a ledge 160 feet above the sea in the Faroe Islands, and waves tore the foghorn off a 100-foot ledge on Bishop's Rock in the Scilly islands.

A cubic centimeter of sea-bottom ooze may contain 25,000,000 organisms called diatoms, and seaweed sometimes grows as high as a sequoia, with a stalk having a 12-foot diameter at the base.

The Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

The Fireman Cop

Cities all over America are reacting to a suggestion that police and fire departments be merged in the interests of economy and of efficiency. The novel argument raised is that firemen have so much time on their hands they might well do police duty in their areas. The ancient question "What does a fireman do between fires?" may be about to be answered.

The new theory is that not only should police and fire departments be merged but that the departments of sanitation and public works should also be poured into one big mat. We await the hour when the cop shows up with a night stick, a hydrant-wrench and a shovel. And it will not floor us now if we phone for the hose-wagon and get two motorcycles and a detective, with ladders attached.

* * *

But we draw the line at yelling for help in a family fight and getting a squad car full of garbage collectors.

The merger suggestion came first from Mayor O'Dwyer of New York, and it has plenty of horse sense, as applied to the police and fire departments. But if adopted, it will require the creation of a new surplus property board to dispose of the fire department cribbage boards.

* * *

Mayor O'Dwyer holds that the problem of preserving law and order in a city in these days is so complex that the firemen in any one area might well be used for limited police duties, especially in a pinch. "Run over to Mulligan's and see what's the trouble between Mr. and Mrs. ——," a fire chief may soon command. "And drop that hose. It ain't that kind of a complaint."

* * *

Or "There's a fight at the Pelican Cafe. Best it be over and don't make the mistake you made last time when you went into action in a firemen's helmet and red shirt."

Down through the ages a fireman has slid down the brass pole, attended to a few firehouse duties, and then sat around waiting for fires, reading the funnies, arguing over baseball, and flirting with the neighborhood cuties. From now on he may be half ladderman and half cop.

His heart may belong to the fire department but his feet will be police department property.

* * *

It will take plenty of readjustments. It's going to be hard at first for a fireman to run to a police emergency call with no violent clanging. How will he feel pulling his footwear on enroute to the job instead of before starting out? And can he be expected never to make the mistake of trying to settle a street corner dispute with a fire axe?

* * *

For a while excuses will have to be made. If Hoseman McGillicuddy, on special duty as a policeman, arrests somebody on the ground floor but orders him up to the attic so he can run him in by extension ladder.

The plan also calls for policemen to do certain fire department duties. This is what worries us. We never want to be on the roof in a four-alarm fire and get the command "Keep movin'! And no back talk."

"TO WHOM It May Concern: What board? What bed? I have worked since the day I married J. DePluma and supplied my own food. As for the bed, it belongs to me, so I took it along with the rest of my furniture to make a home for my children. Fan DePluma — Newark News.

So there!

Possibly the pen manufacturer who just set that round-the-world lane record merely wanted to prove that the pen is flightier than the sword.

No reporters are allowed in the Yankee clubhouse before the game this year. It seems one of 'em got in the other day and asked the embarrassing question—"Whatever became of the Yankees?"

President Truman threw out the first baseball of the year. But Henry Wallace threw out the first bat.

I WONDER if anybody has thought of calling Henry Wallace home to manage the Dodgers and naming Leo Durocher to hurry to Europe and represent American policy in the right light.

Some people are arguing that Henry should confine his speeches to Madison Square Garden. But they don't seem to realize that another circus had leased that building for the month.

All Together, Men

By TRUMAN TWILL

A gent named Dr. Bender of the National Institute for Human Relations says he can prove by statistics that marriage is becoming such a tough routine men are shying away from it. He points to the decreasing number of widowed and divorced men who remarry, as evidence that the burnt husband dreads the wedding ceremony.

In order to stir up the animals, Doc Bender lays down some rules for wives, such as being nice to come home to, don't nag him and make sure he gets enough to eat and plenty of sleep. "Men can do so much straining," the doc says, "and then one day all of a sudden they go up in little pieces."

A lady reader has tied into this proposition with both hands and given Doc Bender a few basic rules for husbands, such as coming home when they're supposed to if they want enough food and sleep. Give the old woman a pat on the back once in a while, she recommends and above all take her out once in a while to relieve the monotony of the same routine seven days a week.

This is the one that takes our fancy, this last one about taking her out. Where does she want to go? The breadwinner drags himself home, suppose, and says, "Wanna go somewhere?" Where? Why? And what's eating yuh?"

And she says, "Sure I wanna go somewhere, ya ironhead. Why wooden I wanna go somewhere? I ain't been out of this firetrap so long I'm doing the chain step. Ya never take me nowheres no more. Ya shamed umme?"

He looks at her wearily. 'Naw, honey, ya can't help what ya look like. I just don't feel like goin' out, that's all. I been out all day. I look forward to comin' home. But I admit ya look like ya need an airin'. Where ya wanna go?"

And she says, "Anywhere, just so's it ain't here. How about the movie at the Odeon? So I don't want to see it. All right, the Zanzibar. Already seen that, huh? Okay, blubber boy, I give up. I don't know the names of no other movies. What ya got to offer?"

He doesn't have anything to offer. He drones off the names of a half dozen things they can't afford to do. She catches on. They glare at each other. He hasn't any intention of taking her anywhere. She knows it. He knows she knows it. He keeps on talking. In a pinch he will take her around the block with him when he airs the dog. That's an offer. Better yet, why doesn't she air the dog herself?

Let's be more considerate of our wives, men. Let's take them—and the dog—around two blocks some night real soon to relieve the monotony of the same routine seven days a week. Then let's hear no more about it. The nagging may make us go up in little pieces. Whirr!

Ohio Legislators Take Up Fair Liquor Zoning Law, Vet Funds

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 22—Legislation dealing with sale of liquor near agricultural fairs and the legality of appropriations to veterans organizations came up for a vote in the general assembly today.

The senate tackled a measure by Sen. Allen N. Corlett (R-Cuyahoga) to exempt liquor permit holders from a 70-year-old statute banning sale of intoxicants within two miles of agricultural expositions. During last year's state fair and some county expositions the Women's Christian Temperance Union revived the ancient law and forced closing of bars near the grounds.

House leaders said they would permit a vote on a resolution by Rep. Kenneth A. Thornton (R-Cuyahoga) asking an attorney general's opinion on whether the state legally could appropriate $88,585 to the veterans groups.

The resolution, submitted at last night's session, asked the ruling by next Thursday noon.

School Foes Make Bid

Opponents of the $88,000,000 Daniels-Cramer school bill made their final bid today to have some $8,000,000 cut from the measure in line with Gov. Thomas J. Herbert's recommendations.

The senate last night unanimously passed bills permitting county commissioners to pay $200 annually for medical and hospital care of needy blind persons; and to require psychiatric examinations of convicted rapists before sentencing.

Also approved was a measure to allow townships to pay street lighting. This bill relinquencies was designed particularly to aid the town of North Industry near Canton, said Sen. Robert A. Pollock (R-Stark).

The house completed passage of a measure authorizing the superintendent of public works to cooperate with the federal government for flood control of the Reno beach area near Toledo.

Single License Plates

Another senate-approved bill, which passed in the house 96 to 24, would allow use of single license plates on motor vehicles in 1948 and 1949 should the state be unable to obtain sufficient steel to continue the two-tag system.

Measures introduced in the senate would create six new division chiefs in the department of industrial relations with annual salaries of $4,800 and increase the pay of the present chief of labor statistics from $3,000 to $4,800. The head of the division of mines would continue to receive $5,000 a year.

Rep. L. P. Mooney (R-Hockin) in a letter to Industrial Relations Director William J. Rogers said he had heard that nine inspectors failed to make examinations during the last six weeks of 1946 because travel funds had been exhausted. He asked Rogers to take steps to prevent recurrence of such a situation.

Continue TB Hearings

The house finance committee continued hearings started yesterday on proposals for a state subsidy to counties for care of tuberculosis patients. The state would pay $2.50 a day per patient under the legislation, which also calls for erection of five new TB hospitals.

Committee Chairman Paul H. Ballard (R-Jackson) asserted at opening hearings the subsidy would mean only that counties would reduce their payments for care of patients by the amounts received from the state. Proponents took the opposite view.

A resolution memoralizing the late Gov. Martin L. Davey was adopted by the senate. The house previously had approved it.

200 ATTEND POLICE DINNER

Mack Sauer, Leesburg, O., Editor Addresses Annual Banquet at Hotel.

About 200 persons attended the annual banquet given by Marion County Lodge No. 24, Fraternal Order of Police, last night at Hotel Harding.

They were associate and active members of the lodge, area law enforcement officers and representatives of civic and fraternal organizations.

The main speaker was Mack Sauer, editor of the Leesburg, O. Citizen, who gave a humorous talk. Others who spoke briefly were Chief of Police William E. Marks and Mayor Harry L. Dowler. Wilson Tway acted as toastmaster.

The invocation was given by Rev. William J. Spickerman and the benediction by Rev. J. B. Holloway.

The mayor reviewed briefly the activities of the police department during the last year, pointing out that nine new men have added to the force and that the department has been brought up to full strength with a total personnel of 26. New equipment has been purchased and retirement of worn-out equipment will be continued, he said.

Mr. Sauer used a fast and furious delivery to deluge his audience with jokes and anecdotes, intertwining through his talk a plea for continuance of the tolerance and freedom of the American way of life.

Others at the speakers table were Safety-Service Director E. O. Uncapher; Fire Chief Owen A. Sifritt; Capt. Lauer of the Galion police department, who is district vice president of Fraternal Order of Police; Marion Tatham, president of Marion County lodge No. 24, F.O.P.; FBI Representative Robert Pumphrey, and Lt. S. D. Augenstein, commanding officer of District A, State Highway Patrol.

Dinner music was furnished by the GI orchestra.

Experience in Navy Leads Former Local Man Into Business

A former Marion man, Alfred L. Rotolfuss, is one of three members of a firm that can point to being the largest concern of its kind in the state of Rhode Island even though it is one of the state's youngest industrial concerns. The partners with Mr. Rotolfuss are Berthel A. Leonard and Nicholas Economos and the firm is the Reco Carbide Tool Co. of Providence, R. I. The three are graduates of the Naval Torpedo Station, Newport, as are five of their employes. Lessons learned in wartime at the Navy station are responsible for the new firm.

With the production of torpedoes growing more and more urgent as the war progressed the nation at Newport turned to carbide tools in their desire to better their output. They wanted tools that would cut away the greatest possible amount of material in the shortest time and it was on this project that the three partners of Reco worked while in the service. When the Torpedo station appeared to be in jeopardy as victory for the allies neared, their attention turned to thoughts of becoming manufacturers of carbide tools in their own right.

Mr. Rotolfuss began work at the Marion Power Shovel at the age of 17. He left Marion for Newport, R. I., in 1939. His wife is the former Laura Ransom of Marion. They have two sons, Alfred Jr., and David, aged 15 and two years respectively. Mr. Rotolfuss is the son of the late John and Emma Rotolfuss. He has three sisters here, Mrs. Florence Arndt, 219 East Walnut street, Mrs. Ruby Graham of 189 East Walnut street and Mrs. Dorothy Osborne of 148 Charles street. A brother lives in Columbus.

MRS. ELMER LONG RITES

BUCYRUS, April 22 — Rites were conducted in the Miller funeral home this afternoon for Mrs. Vera Long, 32, wife of Elmer Long, who died in City hospital Sunday. Mrs. Long underwent an operation a week ago. Burial was made in the Nazareth Lutheran church cemetery at Crestline. Mrs. Long was born in Chatfield township, the daughter of William and Arvilla Shafer. The mother survives with her husband and two children, Roger, 9, and Ronald, three sisters, Mrs. Robert H. of Liberty township and Mrs. Norma Green and Mrs. Helen Main both of Chatfield.

Road To CIO and AFL Proposed Merger Is Termed Thorny Path

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON, April 22—The AFL has asked the CIO to talk about merging the two huge labor organizations.

This won't happen overnight, if it happens. Many problems need settling. The AFL and the CIO have mulled about the idea several years, done nothing.

James Marlow

The AFL — American Federation of Labor and the CIO — Congress of Industrial Organizations—are not unions in themselves. They are organizations of unions. The AFL has 104 unions, claiming 7,650,000 members. The CIO has 40 unions with 6,000,000 members.

This latest suggestion of a merger comes when congress is about to pass the toughest labor laws in history.

A merger would mean a solid labor front of 13,650,000 union workers, all in one organization.

CIO Active in Politics

Unlike the AFL, the CIO has taken a strong part in politics. As an organization it backed candidates it considered friends.

If the two groups merge and adopt a strong political policy, it will be a giant force in national affairs because:

All politicians including congressmen, will have to keep in mind the votes of the 13,650,000 union members and their families.

But here are some problems which need settling before a merger:

What name would the new organization have: AFL, CIO or a new one?

Would the total 144 unions remain separate? Or would some in the same field, such as seamen and longshoremen, merge into one union?

Since most unions have their own offices and property, a merger of any two unions would require a settlement on the property.

Jurisdiction Poses Problem

Suppose two unions cutting across the same field, like an AFL Teamsters and the CIO Transport Workers, remained separate. Which would have jurisdiction?

Which means: How would they divide their field between them?

Since AFL and CIO have their own headquarters, large buildings and large staffs, how would they be merged?

Here's a brief history on the AFL and CIO.

There are two kinds of unions:

1. Craft unions — Only workers doing one kind of work are members.

2. Industrial unions — All workers in one industry, regardless of special skills, are members. Example: auto workers, steel workers.

AFL Craft Union

The AFL, organized in 1886, started out as a group of craft unions. The CIO started out in 1935 as a group of industrial unions.

When the depression hit in the 1930's, the AFL, although it had been in existence since 1886, had only 3,000,000 members.

When congress in 1933 and 1935 passed laws compelling bosses to bargain with unions, unions began to make big strides.

Until then the AFL had been made up mostly of craft unions, although it had some industrial unions, like John L. Lewis' mineworkers.

But a split occurred within the AFL in 1935 when some of the AFL leaders, notably Lewis, felt this way:

Greater efforts should be made to organize the new mass production industries, like rubber and automobiles, still largely unorganized.

Want Industrial Unions

Lewis and his group thought they should be organized as industrial unions, instead of along craft lines, because they were so vast.

To do just that, Lewis' Mine Workers and 11 other AFL unions, still within the AFL, organized the CIO.

(It then was called the Committee for Industrial Organization but later was changed to Congres for Industrial Organizations).

The split widened. The CIO was expelled altogether from the AFL in 1938.

Lewis quit the CIO in 1940 kept his mine workers out of any organization until 1946, and in that year went back into the AFL.

SOLON UPHOLDS CUT IN FUNDS

Interior Department's Protest Called "Squeal of Stuck Pig."

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 22—Rep. Taber (R-NY) today described protests against a 47 per cent cut in the interior department's budget as "the squeal of a stuck pig."

Secretary Krug declared the slash, if upheld by congress, would cause "a tremendous setback in the nation's economy and perhaps the start of a major business depression."

Taber, chairman of the house appropriations committee, retorted in an interview:

"The minute anyone demands a business administration and elimination of the leeches on the government payroll, they squeal like a stuck pig."

Slash Truman Estimate

The committee recommended yesterday that congress give the department $156,538,413 for the fiscal year starting next July 1. This is $138,681,907 less than President Truman's budget estimate.

Krug said in a news conference the cut, which would fall mainly on the reclamation bureau, would lead the nation into "bankruptcy of its natural resources."

Taber countered that the appropriations committee "did a good job in the interest of all the people of the United States, including those in the reclamation territory." He added:

"The reclamation bureau will have $141,000,000 to spend during the next fiscal year, including the carry-over of unexpended balances. That is more than it had this year and is far more liberal than was contemplated by President Truman in his order last year freezing construction expenditures.

"Anyone familiar with the interior department knows that they have so much help in every office that nothing is accomplished. Great difficulty was encountered in getting the facts out of the department. It took ten times as long as it should, if they had been open and frank. Never in United States history has there been a worse example of governmental chicanery."

Many western Republican representatives were dissatisfied over the committee's action toward the reclamation bureau, but Taber joined with Rep. Robert F. Jones (R-Ohio) in predicting that the house will uphold the committee when the bill is considered next Thursday.

Jones, chairman of the subcommittee which wrote the bill, said the group had not "impaired or curtailed any of the essential functions or services of the department."

In this he differed with Krug, who contended the proposed reductions represent a "severe curtailment in vital resources development and a virtual strangulation of major construction on projects which are absolutely indispensable to the expanding economy of the west."

NEW FIRE ESCAPE

ERIE, Pa.—Escaping from a fire in the Cubbison Hotel would be as easy as climbing down the side of a freight car.

Manager Peter Speros, who conceived the idea, is having steel brackets anchored outside the window of each room. In the case of fire, guests could climb down to about 10 feet above the ground, then jump to safety.

The lowest bracket would be high enough from the street to prevent thieves from using the procedure in reverse.

Weak, Watery Blood Blamed for Making Men and Women Look and Feel Older

THAN THEIR YEARS

How do you feel at the end of a day? Is that old time pep and drive lacking? Have you checked-up on your blood strength lately? Thousands now replenishing glowing good looks and vitality through the release of vibrant energy to every muscle, fibre, cell.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a general run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that 666 Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in nonorganic nutritional anemia. This is due to the 666 Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, 666 Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloat and give off that sour food taste.

Don't waste! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on 666 Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. 666 Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

C. and O. Has Best Safety Record In '46 in Road's History

CLEVELAND, April 22—The Chesapeake and Ohio Railway company, twice winner of the Harriman Gold Medal Award for the best safety record of any railroad in its class, in 1946 had the best safety record in the history of the road, President Robert J. Bowman anounced today

Not one passenger was killed last year, and only three passengers suffered minor injuries, Bowman said.

While nine C. and O. employes were killed in 1946 and 272 were injured, these figures are in sharp contrast with those for the 10-year period from 1913 to 1922, inclusive, when 294 employes were killed and 12,152 were injured. Only two C. and O. passengers have been killed in the past 15 years, and neither of these fatalities occurred in a train accident.

There has been a steady decline in deaths and injuries to both passengers and employes on the C. and O. since its safety program, begun on a limited basis, was initiated Jan. 1, 1913. The effect of the program was such that in 1918 it was departmentalized under the direction of a general officer, with safety inspectors in the field. Safety committees, incorporating representatives from supervision and men of the rank and file, were organized at the safety program's inception and have never been discontinued.

Woman Held in Swindle Of Church Parishioners

By The Associated Press

POMEROY, O., April 22—A 26-year-old woman, arrested under the name of Mrs. Joan W. Colvin, but said by police to have used 11 false names, faced preliminary hearing today on charges she swindled cash from three church parishioners.

Mrs. Colvin, a 26-year-old woman describing herself as a minister's wife, was scheduled to appear in the court of Justice of Peace Percy Peoples.

The woman was brought here from Toledo last night.

Police said the woman operated thus:

She traveled with a minister on tours of southern Ohio communities, then persuaded parishioners to "loan" her cash to finance a trip to the West coast. She told the lenders a $40,000 ranch awaited her as an inheritance.

Cambridge Woman's Offspring All College Graduates.

By The Associated Press

CAMBRIDGE, O., April 22 — Mrs. John L. Miller, who has been designated "State Mother of the Year" for Ohio, is the mother of 11 children, all college graduates.

The designation was announced by the American Mothers' Committee of the Golden Rule Foundation in New York.

At the age of 86, Mrs. Miller enjoys good health and visits with her 23 grandchildren and eight great grandchildren at least once a year. Five of her eight sons served in World War I and four grandsons and two granddaughters served in World War II.

Mayor Vern F. Ross of Cambridge reported, "She had the courage to face the world when left a widow with 11 children under age and a farm the only means of livelihood. * * * She encouraged her sons to take part in clean sports, several taking part in big league games."

the alarm was given by firemen was hindered because it was necessary to get water from drilled wells used for the purpose by the village. The hose was laid to a pond at the rear of Fletcher's tractor garage, which gave an ample supply of water. The Kenton and Richwood trucks pumped from the river which is several hundred feet away.

The destruction of the largest industry in LaRue called attention of citizens to the need of a modern water plant. The village council recently postponed indefinitely proposed plans for a village owned plant which was originally estimated to cost approximately $128,300 because the cost of labor and materials would raise the estimated cost by several thousand dollars. The project would have required a bond issue. The estimates were made by Alden Sloan associates, of Columbus engineering firm, paid by the federal government to map the project.

UTILITY COMPANIES PLAN EXPANSION

By The United Press

NEW YORK—The nation's electric utility industry in 1947 probably will spend as much as $1,000,000,000 on construction, bankers and engineers predicted today.

Karl Neff, president of Edison Electric Institute, predicted today.

The $1,000,000,000 total to be spent by business managers in 1947 is just one-fifth of the $5,000,000,000 spent in 1946 by investor companies as well as municipalities and rural cooperatives.

Neff explained that at present he can prove the 1947 total will represent an increase in payment of dollars and the use of materials no greater than that in the years just before the war.

Electric power output by business-managed and publicly operated utilities during 1946 about equaled the 1945 production and compared favorably with the all-time high set in 1944, Neff said.

Neff also disclosed that the electric utility industry last year added nearly 2,000,000 new customers and set record peaks in sales to all consumers except industrial users.

Combined production for 1946 was set at 222,500,000,000 kilowatt hours against 222,633,981,000 in 1945 and the all-time top of 230,646,000,000 in 1944.

Of the 1946 output, 143,000,000,000 kilowatt hours were produced by steam, an increase of 2,500,000,000 over 1945. Hydroelectric production amounted to 77,500,000,000 kwh., down 2,500,000,000 while generation by internal combustion engines rose about the same as the 2,000,000,000 kwh. in 1945.

The average residential consumption in 1946 was 1,350 kwh., an increase of 100 kwh over 1945, he reported.

ing to raise wages and with increased costs [illegible] ready to talk with the idea of cutting prices.

Taft, who also heads the senate Republican policy committee has supported President Truman's repeated appeals to businessmen to bring prices down. Unlike the President who said that wage increases were the alternative to the Ohio senator has argued that pay raises would tend to peg prices permanently at higher levels.

However, Senator Lucas of Illinois, the Democratic whip told a reporter he thinks U. S. Steel can pay the wage increase and still cut prices.

"I think there is enough margin in corporation profits generally to meet wage boosts and cut prices at the same time," he said.

Taft told a reporter that even if wage increases make tax reductions less desirable from an inflationary standpoint, he still believes the time has come to push levies downward.

"The tax schedule now is dangerously high," he declared. "We cannot maintain such rates permanently on individual incomes. And if we don't cut taxes this year, we may never cut them."

Bowles Suggests "Voluntary OPA"

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 22 — Chester Bowles former OPA administrator, suggested today the appointment of a voluntary price board of business men to seek general price reductions in industry.

Bowles advanced the suggestion following a call on President Truman to congratulate him on his speech to the annual Associated Press luncheon in New York yesterday.

"I agree with him (Mr. Truman) 100 per cent on the necessity for bringing prices down to avert a collapse," Bowles told reporters. "The speech was an excellent job. I hope it will be taken to heart. It was a thoughtful and complete statement of the problem."

During the Middle Ages it was the custom to write letters together in lines without breaks or pause marks for either words or sentences.

Rare Precision in Measurements At U. S. Arsenal

By The United Press

PHILADELPHIA — The Frankford Arsenal has equipment that will measure to one three-hundredths part of the thickness of this newspaper you are reading.

The average newspaper and the average human hair have a diameter of 0.003 inches.

The arsenal's gauge laboratory, termed a "palace of precision," has the best measuring equipment produced by American industry as furnished with special devices developed by arsenal personnel, and with the most accurate European measuring equipment captured from the enemy after V-E day.

During the war the arsenal supplied over 600,000 gauges to insure inspection at the 1,500 or more points throughout the United States that produced ammunition components.

In addition to the interferometer and the micrometer, the arsenal has measuring machines, electrical and optical amplifying comparators, toolmakers' microscopes, optical dividing and graduation machines, supersonic measuring equipment, pneumatic amplifiers, profilometers, surface analyzers, internal measuring machines, involute checkers, gear measuring machines, optical contour projectors, superprometers, sine bars, electrical height gauges, and all of the manual measuring tools familiar to the tool, die and gauge maker.

LOVE HUNGRY. While a frantic search was being made in Roxbury, Mass., for 3-year-old Nancy Ryan the child was found in the arm of her former nurse Carolyne Howard, 19, in the Travelers Aid waiting room in Grand Central Station, New York. Miss Howard said she had come to love the child so much that she had taken it with her on a bus trip, but ran out of money.

Romans Read Last Page First

By The Associated Press

ROME — In Rome, singlesheet newspapers give the front pages over almost entirely to politics, economics, foreign affairs, ideological polemics and such heavy fare.

But their back pages are something else again. In them, the reader, if he is diligent, may find such stuff as films are made of—spy thrillers, lurid crimes of passion and hunger, tales of monstrous Fagins with toddling infants in their employ, the picaresque adventures of latter-day Robin Hoods and the like.

Most Romans read the last pages first.

Some gleanings from one day's editions:

Milan is up in arms about bakers who, it seems, have been adding marble dust to flour to increase the weight of their product. One of the bakers narrowly escaped lynching. His name was given as Tessera, which by coincidence is the Italian word for ration card.

Two respectably clad women, with four children in tow, asked a Bologna jeweler to show them some rings. As they oohed and ahed over his wares, the youngest child sidled out the door and wandered down the street. One of the women looked up, missed him, "My child!" She cried, and gave chase. The other, with the three remaining children followed. The proprietor checked his stock. Twelve valuable watches were missing.

The big spy story of the day was the kidnaping, beating and tying up of one Umberto Borrachini, ex-cook, holder of an American silver star for wartime cloak-and-dagger work, and self-described agent of American counter-espionage in Italy. The newspapers speculated. One had it that Borrachini was really an American colonel operating under an assumed name, while another said persons who searched his room carried off irreplaceable documents about Yugoslav espionage and sabotage in Italy.

OHIO CIVIL SERVICE APPEALS FOR FUNDS

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 22—The state civil service commission today renewed appeals for a "new modern salary schedule for all (state) employes" and a larger appropriation for same.

In an open letter sent to all members of the Ohio general assembly and all newspaper editors, Chairman Carl W. Smith and member Gertrude Jones termed the Cleveland Citizens' league of making a "false statement that only 7,000 of 28,000 state employes had qualified in open competitive examinations."

The actual figures on Jan. 14 were 12,230 had permanent appointments on the basis of examinations out of a total of 28,254, the statement said and added:

"Immediately upon assumption of office Gov. Thomas J. Herbert said he wanted all employes qualified by competitive examinations and then he put his finger on the crux of the situation when he said he would help get funds to do the job.

"For 20 years the Ohio civil service system has been starved for money with which to operate. It has been the most poorly financed personnel department of any important state in the country."

Noting that the executive budget for 1947 and 1948 gives the commission $373,300, the commission added:

"The most and immediate need in the state merit system is adequate appropriations for the state civil service commission and a new modern salary schedule for all employes based upon a classification study of the state service."

Landon Pleads for G.O.P. Economic Statesmanship

By The Associated Press

KANSAS CITY, April 22—Alf M. Landon today told the Republican national committee that unless we get some "economic statesmanship and some political statesmanship another planned economy—another OPA is inevitable."

The party's 1936 presidential nominee in an address prepared for delivery at the final luncheon of the committee's two-day meeting here, declared that the "high prices of today are more dangerous to free enterprise than the Communist party of the United States has ever been."

He also observed that "if the President's new foreign policy is to succeed, America must be a sound financial moor post for the best of the non-Communist world to tie to."

EXECUTIVE SAYS WAGE INCREASES NOT EARNED

Gains for Production Not Definite, Westinghouse Head Says.

By The Associated Press

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., April 22—Wage increases given labor in the transition from war to peace were for future production that did not materialize, C. E. Osborne, vice president of Westinghouse Electric Corp. said today.

Addressing delegates at the Westinghouse sponsored 11th annual material cost conference Osborne said:

"What we really did in the transition from war to peace was to get ready in advance for production that did not materialize."

Osborne declared new wage increases were being granted "without correctly appraising the situation" and without the facts of labor productivity.

"It is dangerous because it points to the possibility of a repetition of the factors that have most promoted the American standard of living," he said. "These factors have been increased production per person, increasing exchange of goods, and particularly what labor does of the items that are produced."

Police Hold Man Here As Parole Violator

Police are holding a man they identify as Richard Mays, 49, of the reformatory for Indiana State prison authorities following suspected issuance of questionable checks in this city.

Chief William E. Marks indicates that Mays, on parole from the Indiana institution to which he had been sentenced on a charge of forgery and uttering, violated his parole.

Mays was arrested under the name of Richard E. Downey last week on a charge of intoxication. Both a Kress assistant manager of the Five Marion stores on a check of the man who had withdrawn the arrest went to the police station and identified Mays as a former guest of the hotel who had issued checks to the hotel management without sufficient funds. After Mays received his fine of $10 and costs, he was released on a money order from Mays' employer, the checks were found to have been issued by Mays.

During recent months Mays has been employed here under the name of Richard L. Sullivan, authorities said.

PRIMARY ONLY 2 WEEKS AWAY

Political Interest at Low Ebb with Few Contests on Ballots.

With Marion's primary election only two weeks away, political activity is the slowest it has been in recent years. The primary election ill be Tuesday, May 6.

Although the city's total registration for the primary is approximately 14 800, election board officials predict the vote will be light. Since absentee voters became eligible to cast ballots two weeks ago only four have voted. Mrs Nora Fetter, deputy clerk reported The absentee vote in city primary elections ordinarily totals about 100 The absentee ballots cast to date include two Democratic and two Republican Absentee voters, including those who will be more than 50 miles from their voting precincts on election day, may vote until May 1

One of the reasons for the lack of interest in the primary election this year election officials believe is the scarcity of contests No contests exist on the Democratic ballot. Six offices are contested on the Republican ballot. They are solicitor, council man-at-large and councilmen for the First Third and Sixth wards

Thirteen names appear on the Democratic ballot and 24 on the Republican ballot

Only minor activity also is reported in both Republican and Democratic camps Neither party plans to open its headquarters on election night and no special pre-election meetings are planned party officials report

Fred Allen's Firm To Bill NBC for 25 Seconds Cut Off

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 22—Cutting Fred Allen's Sunday night comedy program off the air for approximately a half minute may cost the National Broadcasting Company "a nice little chunk of dough"

In announcing that NBC would be billed for the time lost, a representative of W Walter Thompson advertising agency representing Allen's sponsor, said

"We buy and pay for half an hour's time from NBC for this program, and that's what we expect to get Allen was cut off the air for about 35 seconds So NBC is going to get a bill for the time we didn't get And, oddly enough, on that Sunday night spot it's a nice little chunk of dough"

NBC, which estimated that the comedian was off the air for about 25 seconds, said that "we asked that certain changes be made in the script, and the changes were not made"

Weatherman Forces Third Straight Cub Lay-Off Day

With the weatherman in the role of villian, overcoats and mufflers are still the vogue, and the Marion Cubs were in for their third straight lay-off today.

Tomorrow the Cubs are scheduled for their first taste of foreign opposition in an exhibition game at Newark and local club officials would like to cajole the barometer into some favorable weather.

Pairs Cubs Down

Manager Nelson Burbrink took his first step in pairing the Cub down at a closed club meeting yesterday. Eight players were dropped thus cutting the squad to 23 members counting Manager Burbrink.

The list of players who survived the first slash is as follows: Catchers, Chester Luckie and Bruce Adams; first basemen, Jim Forbes and Bob Diedrick; second basemen, Aaron Gray and James Huggins; shortstops, Vito Tutera and Gene Bobzean; third basemen, Bob Meyers and Bob Garrison, and outfielders, Mel Wiesel, Kenneth Blair, Alex Kolbicka, Hal Berens, John Scavo, Thomas Parrott, Melvin Nelson, and Bob Delamadeleine, who was called home to Detroit because his mother underwent an operation.

Pitchers are John Edington, Frank Smith, Johnny Tate, James Regula, William Rosin, Winston Brendell, Gerald Peters, and Ed Witowski.

Players who were dropped were Gerry Sullivan, catcher; Leeland Brown and Joe Suchniac, outfielders; Dick Pace, Paul Strohl, Tom Johnson, and Frank Emerson, pitchers; and Bob Boddy, shortstop.

Three of these players were with Marion in previous seasons. They are Boddy, Suchniac, and Pace.

REDS PEEL OFF 1ST COAT OF WHITEWASH

Hank Wyse Blanks Cincinnati, 3-0 at Wrigley Field.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, April 22—The Cincinnati Reds today peeled off their first coat of whitewash this season.

They bowed to the Chicago Cubs, 3-0, here yesterday as Hank Wyse, crafty righthander, set them down with three singles.

The Bruins scored all their runs in the sixth inning by bunching five of their 10 hits off Kent Peterson, rookie southpaw. Singles by Phil Cavaretta, Bill Nicholson, Don Johnson, Lennie Merullo and Wyse accounted for the Chicago runs. Elmer Riddle replaced Peterson the next inning.

The Reds loaded the bases in the second. With one out, Ray Lamanno beat out a roller to third. Charlie Kress tapped to the pitcher's mound and both runners were safe when Wyse threw wild to second to get Lamanno. Both runners advanced as Clyde Vollmer bounced out to the mound. Ray Miller was purposely passed to fill the sacks, but pitcher Peterson struck out.

Bobby Adams opened the ninth with a single over third. After Grady Hatton and Augie Galan had fouled out, Lamanno drilled his second hit of the day to center, but Kress fouled out and the ball game was over.

7 Ex-Marion Cards At Winston-Salem, Henderson Writes

Seven former Marion Caroinas baseball players are now with the Winston-Salem club of the class C Carolina league, according to a letter received last week by W. Dexter Hazen from Ronnie Henderson who hurled for the locals last year and worked in Marion during the off season.

The seven are Henderson, Joe Roseberry, Leo Perini, Carl Casshie, Don Gross, Steve Lazar and Walter Lammers. All except Lammers were here last year. Walter was here in 1945 and was out of baseball last year because of a foot injury received while working in a plant in his home town of Oak Park, Ill.

He was ticketed to go to the Carolina club last year, but was prevented from playing by the injury. Walter was chosen on the league All-Star squad in 1945 and many baseball experts figured he was only three or four years away from the big leagues.

Lazar was out most of last season with a broken ankle received in Dayton in June The whole group trained at Albany, Ga., where all the C and D clubs in the Cards farm system were assembled.

Henderson informer Judge Hazen about the location of several other former Marion performers who also trained at Albany. Cliff Simpson will play with the Albany club in the Georgia-Florida league. Fred Fast, pitcher, was sent to Hamilton, Ont., of the Pony loop. John Griggs, pitcher, and Don Cupp, 1945 catcher, were sent to West Frankfort, Ill.

Charley Frey will open the season with Johnson City, Tenn., of the class D Appalacian league Big Bob Kline who managed the Cards here the last part of last year will again be Frey's skipper. Don Dix, outfielder here part of last year, is the business manager of the Johnson City club and will sign Frey's paychecks.

Vernon Rapp catcher for the Cards last year, after spending the training period with the parent Cardinals in Bradenton this spring, was farmed out to St. Joseph, Mo. in the Western association, and while there will receive the southpaw slants of Bob Muhr, 1945 hurler who spent last season in the Navy.

Red Brennan, lefthanded pitcher here last year, has been sent to Decatur, Ill., in the class B Three-I league. Ted Beck, hard hitting strong armed outfielder here in 1945 and part of last year will start with Lynchburg, Va., in the Piedmont league

Accent On Bing, Says Wagner of Buc Spurt

HONUS WAGNER
Knows the Answer

BING CROSBY
The Answer

By The Associated Press

PHILADELPHIA, April 22—It's no mystery to Honus Wagner, veteran coach, why the Pittsburgh Pirates are atop the National league standings.

"The answer is quite simple," said the Flying Dutchman here for a speaking engagement. "It's the new owners—Mr. McKinney (president of the club), Tom Johnson and that guy, Bing Crosby.

"They've been on hand for every game and have got the players so fired up that we look like a great ball club.

But old Honus, well past 70 years, hates to think of what might happen when "that guy Crosby" goes back to crooning and picture making.

"Keep him around all season and we'd be mighty hard to beat for the pennant," he added. "I don't know what it is but Bing, Mr. McKinney and Tom Johnson have done something to the same outfit that finished in seventh place last year. They're great boys."

Wagner also extolled the team spirit imbued by Billy Herman, the new Buc manager.

NEW YORK, April 22—So many colts seem to have eliminated themselves as Kentucky derby prospect that there likely will be a heck of a field in the $100,000 gallop at Churchill Downs May 3 .... If that seems confusing, it works out this way: the only real standout so far is Phalanx, winner of last Saturday's better division of the Wood Memorial.... Then come a few "possibles" such as Faultless, Double Jay, On Trust and Jet Pilot....From there on nobody knows and there's only an outside chance that the Blue Grass stakes Thursday and the Chesapeake Saturday will do more than possibly add a few names to the list of those who have eliminated themselves.. But it's a matter of record that only 35 favorites have won in 72 derbies and that some horrible things can happen to favorites, especially if they draw one of those inside post positions. So we figure a lot of owners will risk the $1,000 starting fee on the chance that Phalanx and maybe a few others will be caught in a jam...But don't bet on it.

FOUR LITTLE WORDS SLAM DOOR ON LIPPY

"The Case is Closed," Ends Appeal for Durocher.

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, April 22—Four one-syllable words, "The case is closed" today snuffed out hopes of the Brooklyn Dodgers that Leo Durocher might manage the team at least part of this season.

They came from Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler yesterday as he rejected a request by Branch Rickey, president of the Dodgers, and Ford Frick, National league president, that he reconsider the one-year suspension he imposed on the Brooklyn manager April 9.

Rickey and Frick appeared before the commissioner accompanied by Arthur Mann, Rickey's assistant, and Walter O'Malley and Judge Henry L. Ugheta, part owners of the club.

Shortly after the quintet filed out of Chandler's chambers, the commissioner's office issued a 90-word statement which declared they had asked the commission "to reconsider the Durocher case."

"The commissioner declined, stating the Durocher case was closed," the statement said in conclusion.

There was no further comment from any of the conference participants, Rickey, Frick and the other Dodger officials were reported to have left for New York immediately.

Later, Walter W. Mulbry, secretary-treasurer of baseball, said the commissioner had taken no action on a plea from Larry MacPhail, president of the New York Yankees, for reconsideration of a 30-day suspension given Yankee coach Chuck Dressen at the same time Durocher was banned.

Durocher's suspension. Chandler said in announcing it, came "as a result of the accumulation of unpleasant incidents, in which he (Durocher) has been involved, which the commissioner considers detrimental to baseball."

Dressen was penalized on grounds he broke a verbal contract with the Dodgers to join the Yankees.

Brother of Marionite Stricken in Bucyrus

Baseball Attendance May Surpass Record Set in '46

By The Associated Press

Judging from early returns, the attendance at the major league baseball parks this season should came pretty close to matching last year's record.

Despite poor weather which has caused the postponement of 18 games during the first week of action and cut into the crowds in others, the 15 big league clubs drew a combined total of 786,991 cash customers, an average of 18,309 per game.

During the first week a year ago, the majors, taking advantage of perfect baseball weather, got in 50 of their 52 scheduled games which attracted an average of 20,038 per game.

May Top Last Year

With the increase in the number of night games and added interest in such cities as Pittsburgh and Cleveland, where new owners have taken over, it is not inconceivable that the 1947 attendance will approach, if not top, last year's amazing figures.

Yesterday only two of the five scheduled games were played.

The limited action produced one big upset as the surprising Chicago White Sox, taking liberties with the lefthanded shoots of Hurricane Hal Newhouser, the Detroit ace, slapped down the Tigers 6-4 to remain unbeaten atop the American league standings, in registering their third victory of the campaign. Ted Lyons' crew nudged Newhouser and two successors for 10 safeties, four of them for extra bases.

The Sox swatted Newhouser for five runs in the first five innings to settle the issue. Newhouser was wild, walking five men during that time.

"Beans" Chicago Outfielder

He uncorked a wild pitch in the first inning that conked Ralph Hodgin and sent the Chicago outfielder to a Detroit hospital with a concussion and a bad bruise. Hodgin's condition later was reported as "satisfactory."

In the National league's only contest, the Chicago Cubs blanked the Cincinnati Reds 3-0 at Wrigley field.

Rain washed out the scheduled games between Boston and Washington in the American league and Brooklyn-Boston and New York-Philadelphia in the National.

Ted Lyons Likes Pitchers Who Can Hit

PASADENA, Calif.—Ted Lyons, one of the most popular players ever to perform for the Chicago White Sox, may well become a fixture as manager of the Pale Hose.

The likeable Lyons, who cracks the quip rather than the whip, got off to a good start last year, bringing the club up to fifth after taking the reins from Jimmy Dykes in seventh place. He has the Hose hustling this spring and the spirit of optimism is unmistakable.

Thumbnail Preview
CHICAGO WHITE SOX
Pitching—Good.
Hitting—Fair.
Infield—Good.
Outfield—Fair to good.
Catching—Medium.
Finish—Sixth.

Dykes held the job 13 years, landing in the first division six times, a very creditable performance with the material at hand. Jimmy, now Hollywood skipper, held the Sox job longer than any two previous pilots together.

Lyons pitched 21 years for the Comiskey clan and hopes to stick around as many years more as manager.

The most noticeable change in the Sox camp this season is the absence of horseplay. Gone are Dykes' director's chair and other Hollywood-style props.

TED LYONS
Cuts Dykes Horseplay

Another innovation is full batting practice for pitchers. Lyons, who always prided himself more on his generally good hitting than the 260 games he won in the American league, insists that his twirls be more than scarecrows up at the plate.

"A lot of games can be won by a hit from that ninth spot in the batting order," Lyons claims. With such stout-batting chuckers as ex-Yank Red Ruffing and Eddie Lopat to set the pace, Chicago may nab quite a few contests this summer on unexpected pokes by pitchers.

There doesn't seem to be much doubt that the team will have speed and pitching. Taking their tip from Manager Ted—always in shape—the squad has trained soundly. The pitching staff—potentially one of the best in the majors includes Lopat, Ruffing, Orval Grove, Frank Papish, Joe Haynes, Earl Caldwell, Gordy Maltzberger, Edgar Smith, John Rigney, Thornton Lee and rookie Earl Harrist. The Sox curvers had a composite earned run average of 3.10, lowest in the league in 1946.

Lyons straightforwardly says: "We're shooting for the first division, but we're not setting our sights too high. We'll keep hustling, and if we get enough hitting—well, we'll see.

Cleveland Browns To Scout Local Grid Pros

All Games in Interstate Loop, Which Includes Marion, To Be Watched by All-America League Champs.

Paul Brown, nationally famous coach of the Cleveland Browns, professional football team, will send a scout to each Interstate Semi-Pro conference game next fall. Marion is a member of the loop.

This was announced at the second organizational meeting of the conference at Hotel Biltmore in Dayton Sunday.

A league of semi-professional football teams, Marion, Dayton, Lockland, Franklin, Middletown, and Mendon are Ohio cities—having entries in it and Fort Wayne, Sheridan, and Indianapolis, are cities in Indiana who have made entries.

Marion Represented

Marion was represented by Sid Tennant, president of the local semi-pro football club. He was accompanied to the meeting by Gene Fetter head coach, Martin Lewis, assistant coach; Marion McKeever, secretary - treasurer; Roy Newel, a director; and Paul Eshman, vice president.

At the meeting Eshman was elected secretary-treasurer of the league. Other officers elected March 16 are Danny Ryan of Dayton, president, and Tennant of Marion, vice president. The only officer who will receive a salary is the secretary-treasurer.

Some of the rules drawn up for the conference are: If a team fails to show up for a game, without justifiable reason, or leaves the field before the game is over, they must forfeit their entry fee, and will not be allowed to continue in the league until they post another fee.

High School Rules

High school playing rules will be followed in all games. As there are slight differences in the Ohio and Indiana playing rules this will be negotiated by a rules committee at the next meeting Sunday, May 4.

All teams will travel to and from games that are played away from home location by bus.

A schedule for next fall will be drawn up at the next meeting.

Persons representing the various cities at the meeting were: Robert Whiteneck, Lockland; Harrold Howard, Sheridan; Lowell Schwiederman, Mendon; Alex Rado, Dayton; Tom Andre, Middletonwn; Charles Koons, Fort Wayne; Howard Liscomp, Franklin, and Jerry York, Indianapolis.

ORDINANCE NO. 4886

ORDINANCE TO PROVIDE FOR THE ISSUANCE OF NOTES IN ANTICIPATION OF THE LEVY OF SPECIAL ASSESSMENTS AND IN ANTICIPATION OF THE ISSUANCE OF BONDS IN ANTICIPATION OF THE COLLECTION OF SPECIAL ASSESSMENTS FOR THE CONSTRUCTION OF A STORM WATER AND SANITARY TRUNK SEWER ON CLINTON STREET FROM WEST CENTER STREET SOUTH TO WOODROW AVENUE.

WHEREAS, the Council of the City of Marion has heretofore, by proper legislation, declared the necessity of improving Clinton Street by the construction of a storm water and sanitary trunk sewer, and

WHEREAS, this Council contemplates the use of $16,701.54 for the purpose of paying the portion of the cost of said improvement which are to be paid by assessments.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED by the Council of the City of Marion:

SECTION 1. That it is hereby declared necessary to issue the bonds of the City of Marion in the principal sum of $16,701.54 for the purpose of raising money, in anticipation of the collection of special assessments for the improvement of Clinton Street from West Center Street south to Woodrow Avenue.

SECTION 2. That said bonds shall be of the denomination of

1 at $1,701.54
15 at $1,000.00 each

and shall be dated 1st day of January, 1948; shall bear interest at the rate of 2 per cent per annum, payable semi-annually on the first days of January and July of each year until the principal sum is paid, and shall mature in ten semi-annual installments after their issuance.

SECTION 3. That for the purpose of raising monies in anticipation of the levy of special assessments and in anticipation of the issuance of bonds in anticipation of the collection of special assessments for the improvement of Clinton Street from West Center Street south to Woodrow Avenue by the construction of a storm water and sanitary trunk sewer, in accordance with the legislation heretofore passed by the City of Marion's Council with respect thereto, to pay the property owners' share of the cost and expense of said respective improvements, it is hereby declared necessary to issue and there shall be issued notes of said City in the amount of $16,701.54 which shall be placed to the credit of the Special Improvement Fund (Clinton Street Sewer).

The appropriation hereinabove made for said sewer improvement is subject to the qualification that interest at the rate of 2 per cent per annum for the period prior to the collection of the first installment so to be levied shall be included in said amount, and the amount necessary to pay said interest is hereby appropriated for the payment thereof and for no other purpose.

SECTION 4. That such anticipatory notes in the amount aforesaid shall be issued bearing interest at the rate of two per cent per annum payable semi-annually. Such notes shall be dated the 1st day of April, 1947, and shall mature on the 31st day of March, 1948. Said notes shall be executed and delivered in such number and such denominations as may be requested by the purchaser of such notes.

SECTION 5. Such notes shall be executed by the Mayor and City Auditor and bear the seal of the corporation. They shall be payable at the office of the City Treasurer, Marion, Ohio; they shall express upon their face the purpose for which they are issued and that they are issued pursuant to this Ordinance.

SECTION 6. All assessments collected for the improvements aforesaid and unexpended balances remaining in the funds after the costs and expenses of said improvements have been paid, shall be applied to the payment of said notes and the interest thereon until both are fully provided for.

SECTION 7. Said notes shall be first offered to the Sinking Fund Trustees of the City and so many of the same as shall not be taken by said trustees shall be sold at private sale by the City Auditor, but for not less than par and accrued interest, and the proceeds from such sale, except any premium and accrued interest thereon and the amount thereof necessary for the payment of interest prior to the maturity of said notes, shall be paid into the proper fund and used for the purpose aforesaid and for no other purpose. Any premium and accrued interest and the amount necessary for the payment of interest prior to their maturity shall be transferred to the Sinking Fund to be applied in the payment of principal and interest of said notes in the manner provided by law.

SECTION 8. Said notes shall be the full general obligations of the city and the full faith, credit and revenue of said City are hereby pledged for the prompt payment of the same. The par value to be received from the sale of the bonds anticipated by said notes and any excess fund resulting from the issuance of said notes shall, to the extent necessary, be used only for the retirement of said notes at maturity, together with interest thereon, and is hereby pledged for such purpose.

SECTION 9. In the event that such assessments are not levied or bonds are not issued to provide a fund for the payment of said notes at maturity, a general tax shall be levied against all of the property in said City for the payment of such notes and the interest thereon.

SECTION 10. The City Auditor is hereby directed to forward a certified copy of this Ordinance to the County Auditor.

SECTION 11. That this Ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after the earliest period allowed by law.

MORE VETERANS' FAMILIES HOUSED

Moving Into Homes at Lincoln Park This Week.

Six more GI families will move into the veterans' housing project near Lincoln park this week, according to Charles E. Messenger, operator-maintenance man.

Forty-two of the units are now occupied. The remaining eight will be ready for occupancy this month, according to Clarence Taylor, contractors representative.

The first child to be born to residents of the settlement was a daughter born Saturday at City hospital to Mr and Mrs. Henry Rahl.

The new occupants of the housing settlement are Mr. and Mrs. Carl Sloat of 244 North Seffner avenue, one child; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Chapman of Twin Oaks trailer camp, one child; Mr. and Mrs. Lester Bird Jr., two children; Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Akins of 216½ North Main street, two children; Mr. and Mrs. William Shenefield of 294 Leader street, one child and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Brake of Twin Oaks trailer camp, one child.

MARKET RECOVERY EFFORT SUCCESSFUL

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 22—Efforts to keep the stock market recovery going were selectively successful today although many leaders edged into lower territory.

Slowdowns were frequent after a fairly active opening. While assorted favorites added fractions to a point or so, losses of as much were plentiful near the fourth hour.

A certain amount of selling was blamed on waning tax relief hopes and the belief of some economists that a business recession was a probability.

Attracting support were Chrysler, General Motors, Montgomery Ward, North American, Anaconda, Union Pacific, Norfolk and Western, American Can, Du Pont, Allied Chemical, Eastman Kodak, American Woolen, American Tobacco "B" (as the "rights" on this issue expired), Worthington Pump (on a pleasing earnings statement) and Johns-Manville.

Schenley sank to a new low and International Paper softened. Backward at intervals were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Youngstown Sheet, Sears Roebuck, U. S. Rubber, Douglas Aicraft, Boeing, Texas Co., N. Y. Central and Southern Railway.

JOHNSVILLE SCHOOL TO SURVEY BUILDING NEEDS

Board Employs Architect to Estimate Building Costs.

Special to The Star

MT. GILEAD, April 22—The Johnsville High school board of education, at a meeting last week, employed an architect, Herbert S. Jones of Mansfield, to make a survey of the building needs at Johnsville High school and gave an estimate of building costs.

Minimum needs at the school were listed as four class rooms, farm shop, music room, home economics room and a study hall.

County superintendent of Schools E. Honnold said if a bond issue was decided upon it would not be ready to put on the ballot in May 6 when the Mt. Gilead and Cardington issues come before the voters of their respective districts.

Enrollment at Johnsville, the third largest school in the county, is 431.

COALS TO NEWCASTLE

By International News Service

PITTSBURGH—It may be like carrying coals to Newcastle, but a Pittsburgh firm is going to England for tin plate. L. A. Dixon Jr. of the Rockwell Manufacturing Co. said his company could not purchase enough tin at home. The Pittsburgh district is the largest tin plate production center in the world.

Lodge Makes Final Plans for Circus

Final arrangements for the appearance here Thursday of the Mills Brothers circus were made when Marion Lodge 889, Loyal Order of Moose, met Monday night. The circus stand here is being sponsored by the lodge.

Buses will be sent to the Marion county children's home to take the children to the afternoon show at 2 p. m. An evening performance is scheduled for 8 o'clock.

The lodge members closed its membership drive, held during the last several months by passing on 20 applications. Ninty-five new members have been secured.

Initiation of candidates, followed by a banquet, is scheduled for Sunday. A degree team from the Delaware lodge will be in charge of the initiation.

Twelve members of the local lodge attended a district meeting of the Legion of the Moose Sunday in Sandusky. The next district Legion meeting will be May 18 at New Riegel, O. and will mark the opening of a new lodge home there.

RECEIPTS LOWER AT WEEKLY AUCTION

Livestock receipts at the Marion Union Stockyards auction yesterday totaled 1,771. Prices generally were lower than those of last week, although they compared favorably with prices in other sections of the state. Choice calves brought up to $24.25, more than $1 higher than most other Ohio markets, livestock officials said. There were 384 consignors.

SO BECKIE DID COME TO CALL ON ME... WITH A GUN IN HER HANDBAG! I DON'T GET IT--
I IMAGINE THE GUN WAS INSURANCE. SHE OBVIOUSLY WANTED TO PROPOSE SOMETHING, BUT WAS TAKING NO CHANCES ON YOUR REFUSING TO COOPERATE.
SOUNDS REASONABLE—BUT PROPOSE WHAT? AFTER ALL, THE LAST TIME WE MET, I TRIED TO TURN HER OVER TO THE CHINESE COPS.
I KNOW—THAT'S WHAT MAKES THE REST OF HER CONVERSATION SO ILLOGICAL.
WHAT DO YOU MEAN?
WELL, WHEN SHE TOLD ME WHERE SHE LIVED, AND MENTIONED THAT SHE WOULD BE IN AROUND NINE O'CLOCK TONIGHT, I SORT OF GOT THE IDEA THAT SHE WOULD LIKE THAT HANDSOME DEVIL, IDAM, TO COME A-WOOING — AND SHE'S WELL AWARE THAT I'M A COP, TOO!

THAT BEAUTIFUL LACE MILLIE GAVE HER JUST SETS IT OFF!!! SHE'LL BE THE LOVELIEST BRIDE IN TOWN, WON'T SHE, UNCLE WONDERFUL?
UPON MATURE REFLECTION, I'D SAY THAT CHLOE WILL BE VERY WELL GROOMED!!

LOVE'S PERILOUS PATH

By ADELE GARRISON

"YES, Otto knows the secret of the cave entrance," my father said. "But one thing is certain, he will not divulge the secret to anyone else, while he, himself, cannot get back to Transvania.

"As long as he remains in South America, the secret is safe. But the organization down there is getting stronger every day, and we have secret word that one of the stronger Balkan governments, a section of whose frontier adjoins Transvania, is also strongly Fascist and may be expected to aid the South American organization in trying to get its members into Transvania."

Pietro and Georges

"You know, of course," Philip Veritzen said, "that Pietro, Olga's younger son, and Georges of Trees, Olina's fiance, were in Transvania when we last heard from them, months ago, before the fog gathered, shutting out all news."

It was like him, I told myself, to say, "Georges of Trees," as if the dashing, fascinating but a bit unstable cavalier upon whom his stepdaughter Olina had set her affections still had a throne and a country he could call his own, instead of being a wandering exile with a price upon his head.

"Yes," my father answered, "and we also know that Pietro has in his keeping the secret of the cave entrance to the underground chambers where the treasure is concealed."

"Georges knows the secret, too, by now," Philip said. "Olga sent instructions to Pietro to pass it on to Georges; first, because Georges is betrothed to Olina, and will be one of the family, and second, because Georges has been of signal help to Pietro in his plans for stable government in Transvania. The two men are working together—if they are alive."

Trying to Find Out

"That is one of the things we are trying desperately to find out," my father told him. "And if they have been killed, we still must keep that treasure from falling into Otto's hands. We must move before he does."

Even Philip Veritzen's poise was not proof against that calm statement with the preposterous implication investing it.

"You mean that—that—you intend—" he began, almost stammering.

"I mean," my father said coolly, "that the treasure—the most valuable part of it—must be moved from the palace vaults before Otto can get his hands on it."

Protesting Speech

"I knew that only ingrained respect and long habit of deference to the Chief kept Dicky and Jack from giving low whistles of incredulity. But Philip Veritzen broke into protesting speech.

"But, Charles," he asked, "how in the world are you going to manage that, in a country which is locked almost as securely as if an immense key had been turned on it?"

"I do not know as yet," my father replied, "but there is always this truth to consider."

He put his fingertips together, and spoke almost pontifically.

"Always, history has shown," he said, "that it is the little people—the insignificant appearing ones—who are able to hide things best. Pietro and George are marked men in their own persons, and if they attempt disguise—well, I cannot imagine Georges, for instance, being able to get away with the impersonation of a loutish peasant.

Others Know Secret

"But," he went on slowly, "there are others who know the secret of the treasure and the cave entrance to the underground rock chambers. Olga spoke of faithful retainers. Can she give me their names, and furnish me information as to how agents of ours, in border countries to Transvania, who can act the roles of peasants, can find them, or find people who know of them?"

"Yes, she could do that," Philip said. "But do you think it possible for those retainers to get the treasure out, or to keep it safe, if it were removed?"

"Remember, it will not be too bulky, my father said. "Many of the larger art treasures will have to remain where they are. But the jewels and the gold can be transported in sacks," hidden among vegetables and secreted beneath the stone floors of stables. Better that it be lost altogether than that Otto should get his traitorous hands upon it!"
